Eight Workmen On River Ice At Ottawa Have Narrow Escape

Will Themselves Out on Island as Big Ice Cake Is Swept Along and Goes Over Rideau Falls
Men Engaged At Blasting Ice

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 4.—Eight men blasting ice on the flood-swept Rideau River narrowly escaped being swept over the seventy-five-foot Rideau Falls on a large ice cake here to-day.
Suddenly breaking away from the ice sheet, the cake was swept to the fast-moving current, swollen by rains and the spring freshets, sweeping from cake to cake, the men finally reached Cummings Island, where they put themselves to safety by a low-lying tree. A few seconds later, the large cake was carried into the middle of the current and dashed to pieces a mile downstream when it toppled over the falls. In the meantime, two men in a boat had difficulty pulling ahead of the ice cake as it swept down the river.
A heavy discharge of dynamite, used to prevent flooding, caused the ice to move.

British Barristers at Istanbul Try to Prevent Extradition to U.S.

Associated Press
Istanbul, April 4.—Reduced to anchoring peanuts in a Turkish house of detention—unable even to obtain a personal baggage from the vessel which he was seized—Samuel Insull to-day awaited efforts by newly acquired British lawyers here to delay his extradition to the United States.
The aged fugitive, once powerful United States utilities operator, sent one of his warders to the open market to buy a bag of peanuts. Then while hundreds of curious pedestrians gazed up at him, he walked up and down before the window, eating the peanuts.

ONTARIO FARMS ARE FLOODED

Toronto, April 4.—The Ontario flood menace to-day centred in the valley of the swelling Grand River where periodic ice jams backed up surface waters over roads and highways and at one point threatened to carry away a bridge.

In the Ottawa valley a similar condition prevailed, with little hope of immediate relief. The floods, which in some cases drove families from their homes in Cornwall, continued to surge over farms and roads, but the river level remained as dynamite was used to blast out ice blockages.

Plans To Improve Earners' Conditions

With Economic Council and Industrial Relations Board About to Start Work in B.C., Prairie Provinces Move to Increase Farmers' Income

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, April 4.—A planned industrial policy and rejuvenation of western Canada's farming plant appeared to be in the making to-day to restore confidence in the hard pressed men and women on the land.
British Columbia's newly-formed economic council laid plans to open markets of the Dominion and provinces abroad to the province while Legislatures of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba considered measures to finance agricultural operations at reasonable interest rates to introduce a method of debt adjustment and to regulate trade and industry.

EAT BOARDS
Legislation calling for the setting of emergency wheat marketing rates in the three prairie provinces needed space and received study committee after second reading.

PRINCESS IS VISITOR HERE

Sister to Henry Pu Yi, With Husband and Daughter, to Sail For Orient Saturday

Her Royal Highness Princess Junho, a daughter of the Royal House of Manchuria, with her husband, T. H. Cheng, and their baby daughter, reached Victoria this afternoon from Vancouver and will remain here until the departure Saturday for the Orient of the S.S. Empress of Canada. At the Empress Hotel they are registered as plain "Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Cheng."

The princess is the second sister of the newly-crowned Manchurian Emperor, Henry Pu Yi, and is on her way home to reside with him in Hsinking, the new capital of Manchukuo. For several years she and her husband have been residing in London, where Mr. Cheng was a student at the University of London. Their small daughter, who was born in the British capital, is named Ying Tsai. The first name means both "blossom" and "England" in Chinese, and the second means "talent."

CHINESE COSTUME
The charming little Oriental princess was dressed when she stepped from a train in a Chinese costume, which she wore this morning and made an immediate transfer to the S.S. Princess Alice for Victoria. On the boat across the Gulf, she wore a rich, Chinese dress, on which were worked flower designs in pink. The dress was lined with pale pink. She wore flesh colored stockings and fashionable black shoes. Her hair was bobbed.

SEA MONSTERS WASHED ASHORE

Fourth Sea Serpent Found on French Coast; Carcass on Shore of Egypt

Biarritz, France, April 4.—The sighting of sea serpents to French shores seemed approaching the proportions of an invasion when a monster twenty-three feet long and weighing 335 pounds was washed up on Basco rocks. Scientists are examining it.
Three sea serpents were found recently further up the coast.

NOT IDENTIFIED
Port Said, Egypt, April 4.—A good portion of the Mediterranean coast was thrown into a turo yesterday by the discovery of a fifteen-ton "monster" washed up on the Roman beach, in the direction of Palestine. Fishermen found the carcass partially buried in the sand. They excitedly summoned coast guardsmen, who decided it was not a matter requiring their services; so they turned over the case, bag and baggage, to the fisheries administration.

FEDERAL ELECTION IN SEPTEMBER WILL MEAN LIBERAL LANDSLIDE

Hon. Ian Mackenzie, M.P.
For Vancouver Centre, Asserts Conservative Party Definitely Out of Picture, While C.C.F. Waning as National Force
"In my opinion the federal election will be called by the first week in September," declared Hon. Ian Mackenzie, M.P. for Vancouver Centre, who was in Victoria to-day, prior to his return to Ottawa for the reopening of Parliament following the Easter recess.
"Of course," he added, "there is a lot of speculation about the date of the election, with some of the Tory leaders claiming it will not be held until next year, but it looks like this fall to me."
There is one man in Ottawa who knows, and that is Premier Bennett, and it is doubtful whether he has decided just when would be the most favorable time to go to the election.
"Whenever Bennett goes to the country, however, is beside the point, for the result will be the same," continued Mr. Mackenzie.
There is no doubt in my mind that the next federal election will witness a Liberal landslide. The Conservative Party is out of the picture. The C.C.F. Party is disrupted. "I am ready to assert that not one C.C.F. candidate will be elected in Quebec, and not one in the Maritimes."
In Alberta the C.C.F. and the U.F.A. are substantially at loggerheads, and in Saskatchewan the C.C.F. are by no means as strong as they were two years ago.
"As a national force," said Mr. Mackenzie, "the C.C.F. is distinctly on the wane."

INDIAN PARTY SEE CITY LIFE

Eleven Youths from Ahousat Silently Observe Things Here; Weighing Machines, Mail Boxes and Swimming Tank Interest Them

Silent, but very observant, eleven Indian boys from the residential school at Ahousat, who arrived yesterday on a three-day visit to Victoria under the charge of Rev. Joseph Jones, principal of the school, were to-day quietly settling into an entirely new environment. None of them had ever before seen a big city, yet it is the minor details which seem to strike them rather than the big differences from the life on the West Coast of the Island.
The electric clock in the Y.M.C.A. hall had this morning given place to the weighing machine as a centre of interest. A group was standing around the machine, silent, observing how it printed tickets and told their fortunes.
Two who were out walking with a member of the Y.M.C.A. stopped and watched a woman putting mail in a letter box, unspoken but with intensely surprised expressions on their faces.
A pretty girl walking past the "Y" building in a mannish overcoat and outwashed trousers held the interest of three standing in the window of the lobby.

INCREASE IN CONSTRUCTION

City Building Figures Pass 1933 Total; $10,000 Store Project

For the first time this year construction figures recorded by the city building inspector exceeded those of last year, with the granting of a permit for a $10,000 flooring project by the Hudson's Bay Company yesterday.
The total figures for the year, up to yesterday, stand at $63,726 against $55,130 for the same period in 1933. The upward trend in building started last month, when the March totals were more than $3,000 above those of the same month last year, the amounts being $23,440 for 1934 against $20,346 in 1933. However, at the end of March the first quarter's figures lagged slightly behind those of the first quarter of last year.
The Hudson's Bay Company project is the laying of a new flexible covering over the main floor of the building.

RIVER FLOODS IN U.S. CAUSE DEATHS

In Oklahoma 23 White Persons and Number of Indians Drowned; Deaths in Wisconsin

Elk City, Okla., April 4.—At least twenty-three white persons, in addition to fourteen Indians, were drowned in a low-lying camp and seven other Indian families from the Red Moon reservation, were missing to-day and grave fears were held for their safety as a result of the disastrous flood of the Washita River north of here.
"Houses in the vicinity of the little town of Hammond were torn from their foundations. Families were swept from their beds as the usually quiet Washita spread suddenly to a width of nearly two miles."
Hope virtually was abandoned for the wife and five daughters of A. M. Adams, a farmer. Adams rescued two other children before his home was smashed against a bridge. Before he could get the others out, the house was swept downstream.

TO SET SCALE FOR LOGGERS

New Wage Board Starts Work To-morrow; Seek Settlement of Strike

The new Provincial Board of Industrial Relations will hold its initial meeting to-morrow, Adam Bell, chairman, announced to-day.
While the meeting will be mainly for organization purposes, it is also proposed to lay the foundation for dealing with the situation in the logging industry, it was intimated.
Due to the strike which has tied up a large number of camps, mainly on Vancouver Island, and kept close to 3,000 men off the earning lists, this industry is the one most vitally interested in wage questions at the present time. The strike negotiations fell down when no agreement could be reached on the loggers' demand for a $2.25 a day minimum.

In view of attempt now being made by loggers to have sawmill workers join them in the strike, every effort will be made to prevent a more general tie-up. It is estimated the strike has already caused an economic loss of close to $1,000,000 in the province, as it affects not only the logging business but other trades which depend upon it.

The Industrial Relations Board probably will consider representations from all parties interested as a basis for fixing minimum wage scales, hours of work and other conditions within the industry.
"It will be at it in a few days," said Mr. Bell.

NEW DEPARTMENT OF GOVERNMENT TACKLES MUNICIPAL PROBLEM

Pressing Needs of Municipalities Under Commissioners to Be Investigated Plan Complete Revision of Land Assessment System on Service Basis

With Robert Baird, former inspector of municipalities, now installed as deputy under Hon. A. Wells Gray, the new provincial Department of Municipalities will immediately commence a thorough investigation of the affairs of the municipalities of B.C. which are being handled as commissions.

At the same time, the condition of number of other districts which are said to be on the verge of the same thing financially will come under review.
Arrangements were being made at the Parliament Buildings to-day to have Mr. Baird take over offices near his chief and the crucial municipal problem will then be tackled wholeheartedly.

Refinancing proposals are in the air for some of the municipalities which had to be taken over by the government through a commissioner. There are several attendant difficulties which must be worked out, however. Whether it will be possible to get them back on a self-governing basis is a matter of conjecture at present.

At Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, Man With Head Lacerated Is Questioned as Police There and Elsewhere Seek Men Who Slew Six Persons in House Near Bremerton

Three Men Reported Seen Last Friday

Canadian Press and Associated Press

Vancouver, April 4.—The possibility that the perpetrators of the murder of six persons near Bremerton, Wash., last week fled to British Columbia following the crime was being investigated to-day by Vancouver police.

A car stolen in Vancouver Monday was discovered yesterday abandoned and bearing Oregon state license plates, its own British Columbia plates having been carried off. Police believe the car was stolen by persons evading pursuit from the United States and its number plates substituted for those on their own car.

A check is being made at the international boundary and at the Oregon automobile license bureau in an attempt to discover ownership of the car which bore the Oregon plates.

NEW REPORT
Bremerton, Wash., April 4.—A report that three men, two of them with bandaged heads, were seen here Friday not long after the murder of six persons at Brundage Point, to-day drew the attention of authorities in their search for the slayers.

Mrs. Gladys Schreiber, wife of a navy yard worker, told of seeing the three men race past her home in a small green sedan. One of them was large, she said.

Previously Luke S. May, Seattle criminologist, had reported at least one of the slayers must have been seriously hurt in the battle at the Frank Filander home, and that he probably was a large man.

MAY QUESTIONED
At Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, to-day a man with severe head lacerations was being questioned about his recent activities.

BUSINESS GAINS SEEN IN MANY PARTS OF CANADA

Increases in Trade Are Basis of Optimistic Reports; Canadian Chamber of Commerce Tells of Improvements; Big Paper Company Raises Pay

Montreal, April 4.—Canada to-day saw definite signs of industrial recovery in optimistic overnight business news from many parts of the country. Reports told of increased wages, increased employment, greater harbor activity and new business for industrial plants.

The Dominion Steel and Coal Company at Sydney, N.S., announced it had received orders to manufacture 24,000 tons of soft steel products for export to the United Kingdom and New Zealand. The company said the order represented new business. It reported its working force at 2,200, the largest in recent years.

Plans To Improve Earners' Conditions

Amendments were made to Clause 7 in the Saskatchewan and Manitoba bills. This section of the bill proposed to place control of wheat boards above appeal through the courts. Amendments were inserted to guarantee a minimum price for wheat during the period of the London agreement. Similar legislation will be requested in Alberta.

On the Pacific Coast a board of industrial relations called a meeting to lay the groundwork for a structure they plan to deal with many difficulties which must be straightened out. Their first task will be an attempt to settle the strike of 2,300 loggers on Vancouver Island.

The other newly-created body operating in conjunction with the British Columbia government, the economic council, will undertake a programme including a study of markets with a view to recommending increased British Columbia markets within Canada and abroad, a study of land utilization, classification of people on the basis of employment, under-employment and utilization of natural resources.

FARM DEBT RELIEF
 The Manitoba government had before it to-day a report urging investigation by federal commission of all matters relating to farm debtors and creditors. The proposed commission would be asked to define the sphere of control of each province, recommend action with regard to interest rates and outline a method of actual debt adjustment.

Wide powers to regulate trade and industry also were asked in a bill before the Alberta Assembly. The measure has received first reading. Under the act a bureau of trade and industry would be set up, headed by a director who would have power to regulate trade and maintain fair competition and prices.

"Construction showed a gain of 17.8 points this January over January, 1933, and electricity output increased from 131.6 in January, 1933, to 162.9 in January, 1934.

The adjusted index of employment for all industries in February, 1933, was 77.0, and this February it had increased to 91.4. Mr. Taylor, Addressing Parent-Teacher Federation, Says Teachers' Salaries Cannot Be Raised This Year

Canadian Press
 Vancouver, April 4.—Mayor L. D. Taylor of Vancouver to-day reiterated his statement that salaries of Vancouver teachers will not be raised this year and intimated they may be further reduced when he addressed the opening session of the twenty-second annual convention of the British Columbia Parent-Teacher Federation. In reply to criticism levelled by Harry Charlesworth at the convention of the B.C. Teachers' Federation yesterday evening, Mr. Taylor declared that, unless a deficit of between $100,000 and $200,000 in the city budget is made up, salaries of civic employees, including teachers, will suffer additional cuts.

"We all have our obligations and none of us can expect the same remuneration we got three years ago," he said.

The Mayor denied that he or the city council was trying to "fix" teachers' salaries. "We have an indirect responsibility because we have to supply the money," he said. He declared balancing the city budget was the first necessity.

DELEGATES WELCOMED
 Presided over by Mrs. A. E. Delmage, the delegates heard expressions of good wishes from the city council. The 250 delegates were welcomed by Mayor Taylor and Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education.

Other speakers of welcome were heard from J. W. Carr, president of the B.C. School Trustees' Association; Mrs. Edward Mahon, chairman of the Vancouver school board; Mrs. A. Jones, president of the Vancouver Parent-Teacher executive.

Vancouver, April 4.—Declaring financial authorities often made unfair distinctions between teachers' contracts and bond obligations, treating the former as little more than a scrap of paper while the latter were held as sacred and unchangeable, Harry Charlesworth, secretary of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation, took exception to a statement of Mayor L. D. Taylor concerning teachers' salaries.

Mr. Charlesworth's statement was made to more than 1,000 delegates to the twenty-second annual convention here. Monday evening Mayor Taylor told the convention it would be impossible for this city to restore teachers' pay cuts this year.

HEARD WITH SURPRISE
 "It was with considerable surprise we heard Mayor Taylor take the opportunity of making his official address of welcome to state in some of his emphatic terms what was the salaries of the Vancouver teachers for the present year," Mr. Charlesworth said.

wise indicated that fingerprints of some of the victims had been found on the death weapons, which they might have seized while being struck or used in an attempt to defend themselves.

A butcher knife, carving knife, fur-trimmed coat, hammer and a revolver were used in the killings, but the revolver has not been found.

CHECK-UP IN SEATTLE
 May said Seattle authorities would check people there who were known to have been acquainted with the Frank Flieder in whose home the murders were committed and who were two of the victims.

Authorities are puzzled because the victims did not attempt to escape while the fight was in progress, and none of them had their feet tied and none of the doors were locked.

IDENTIFICATION
 Seattle, Wash., April 4.—Picking together what he termed "the greatest jig-saw puzzle" he had ever worked on, Luke S. May, Seattle chief of detectives, said he had a means of making identification of one of the killers of six persons in the home of Frank Flieder near Bremerton last week. Search for the killers shifted to-day.

Both were said to be Seattle men, their names were still withheld to-day. Police said the whereabouts of one were known, and an arrest was expected soon.

EQUALITY MENTIONED
 "Equality of sacrifice, has, unfortunately, not been the motto of those who have been responsible for the hanging the slayers," the secretary continued.

PISTOLS MISSING
 Adding to the theory of a second knower was the fact that pistols of both Magnus Jordan and Frank Flieder, one of the victims, are missing. Search is being made at low tide on the beach in front of the house for the weapons in the belief they might have been thrown into the water.

 At Alberni, where the party was compelled by rough weather to leave the forty-foot launch, the Dawn—a staunch little vessel which they themselves built to the design of Mr. Jones—the party saw their first railway train. Until their arrival in Victoria they had never seen a street car, they had, however, seen and used electric light and ridden in motor cars.

Long before anyone else was moving in the building, the eleven boys were splashing about in the swimming pool at the Y.M.C.A., rather surprised at the late rising of the white man. At the residential school they began at 7 o'clock in the winter and earlier in the summer.

PADDLES TELL HISTORY
 The boys have brought with them a collection of paddles made from samples of their work. The paddles are of yew and yellow cedar, and are painted with symbolic designs of sea monsters and killer whales with wolves' heads. One of special interest, shows a party of braves in a canoe hunting seals.

Insull appeared less depressed to-day after talking with the staff of lawyers trying to find some loophole in the Turkish government's ruling he must be handed over to the United States for trial on larceny and fraud charges.

PHYSICAL CULTURE
 The boys, whose ages range from fifteen to eighteen, are of very heavy build, and will make a strong opposition for the basketball and football teams which they are to meet during their stay in the city. They have only one outside team at basketball, at Alberni last year, and they scored a crushing victory over youths who far surpassed them in height if not in general strength.

They read avidly all that they can lay hands on. Magazines dealing with physical culture are the favorites. Mr. Jones stated that the average type of unsavory publication brought up by the coast shipping was the greatest bummer of life at Alberni.

DAMS GIVE WAX
 Hudson, Wis., April 4.—Two dams, a 150-foot highway bridge and a 200-foot railway trestle were washed out early to-day under pressure from flood waters, adding an estimated $500,000 damage to the loss from the torrential rains of Monday night.

The middle dam of the Willow River Power Company, four miles away, gave about midnight, releasing a fifty-foot wall of water. The torrent hurled buildings, trees and debris against a bridge between Hudson and North Hudson, and dounded it to pieces.

Nations' Delegates Will Discuss Price Plans For Wheat

Minimum Figures and Control of Exports Among Schemes Before Conference Opening in Rome To-morrow

By ALBERT W. WILSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
London, April 4.—The first international effort in history to jack up wheat prices and then stabilize them will reach a climax here to-morrow.

Gathering in Rome, world wheat experts will ponder new measures to save from failure the wheat pact drawn at London in August, 1923. On the eve of the conference, authoritative opinion is that a united front by the "Big Four" wheat nations—Canada, Australia, Argentina and the United States—will be essential if the meeting is to be a success.

Minimum prices for wheat and wheat flour, strict control of shipments from all countries and legislative measures to increase consumption are outstanding recovery problems to be considered.

Canada, the world's greatest wheat exporter, is known to be ready to lead fully implementing the August wheat pact. Under the Natural Products Marketing Act, now before Parliament, wheat boards are to be set up in the wheat-growing provinces, acting with a federal board, to regulate and restrict sales so that Canada's exports abroad will not exceed the maximum it accepted for the crop year 1934-35. This maximum is expected to be around 245,000,000 bushels, compared with the maximum of 200,000,000 for the expiring crop year.

The selection of John I. McFarland as the chief Canadian representative at Rome was interpreted as signifying Canada may again take the initiative in the wheat-growing world.

McFarland is in charge of Dominion stabilization arrangements for the Winnipeg market.

To-day it was pointed out the reassurance regarding Canada still leaves the question of whether Argentina and Australia are similarly ready to act.

U.S. PRESIDENT'S COURSE DEFENDED

Democrat in House Supports Roosevelt; New York Republican Scores Moves

Washington, April 4.—Representative George Foulkes, Michigan Democrat, in a speech in the House of Representatives yesterday, struck at the "brain trust" revolution charges of Dr. William A. Wirt of Gary, Indiana, asserting that citizens want "is not less radicalism, but more."

The Gary school superintendent was accused by Mr. Foulkes of aiding "Hitlerism." He contended Dr. Wirt would be disappointed if he expected the country to be shocked because of progressive tendencies in the Roosevelt administration.

"In a country whose government was established through a revolution, suggestions of change ought not to excite fears," Mr. Foulkes said. "No people should be less reluctant to consider new procedure than the American people."

The Michigan Democrat said he felt Dr. Wirt had done a good thing by bringing the subject of the brain trusts and their ideas into the open for discussion.

REPUBLICAN SPEAKS

Washington, April 4.—Political observers attached significance to-day to a speech by Representative James Wadsworth, New York Republican, contending the United States recovery program would set up a government "imperial in character."

Mr. Wadsworth is one of several men mentioned as possible candidates for the Republican presidential nomination in 1936.

The New Yorker yesterday evening contended many had supported the administration's programme in the belief some of the restrictions imposed would be lifted at the end of the emergency. Now it would be made permanent, he argued.

He attacked the programme as setting up a "huge bureaucracy" to tell "millions of people how they shall earn their living."

ACCUSED WOMAN ATTENDS FUNERAL

Los Angeles, April 4.—Charged with murdering her husband, Mrs. Nellie Madison, former Montana ranch wife, wept unreservedly at his funeral yesterday. She was brought to the service under guard from the county jail.

Another mourner who also wept freely was Mrs. Georgia Madison, who was divorced in 1928 from Eric Madison, movie studio auditor, slain three days ago.

Mrs. Nellie Madison's preliminary hearing is set for April 12.

Pierced by several bullet wounds, the body of Madison was found ten days ago in the couple's Burbank apartment. He apparently was the victim of the mysterious shots, followed by a man's scream and a woman's laugh, which other residents in the building heard the preceding midnight.

As Nellie Mooney, daughter of a Dillon, Montana cattle rancher, Mrs. Madison became an excellent pistol and rifle shot and occasionally performed in rodeos, authorities here said they had learned. She is understood to have left Montana more than ten years ago.

VISITOR TOURS WITH POLICE

Rt. Hon. H. B. Lees-Smith, British Ex-minister, Tells of Chicago Experiences

Canadian Press via Havas
London, April 4.—An extraordinary story of a night in an armored car with three detectives attached to the Chicago police force was told here yesterday by Rt. Hon. H. B. Lees-Smith, former Minister of Education.

"After spending two days with the detectives, Mr. Smith said, he set out one night in one of the patrol cars, a high-powered machine equipped with two machine guns, a revolving searchlight and a radio set with which they receive particulars of the crimes committed from one hour to the next."

"The detectives' method was to turn the searchlight on any pedestrian looking at us suspicious," he said. "They would stop their car immediately and question the suspected person or persons, and search them on the spot."

"We would enter houses without a search warrant," he continued. "In one house we visited we found a negro asleep in bed. The detectives searched the room and found a loaded revolver, but no dope. They discussed whether to lock him up for the night. Finally, looking at me, they said, 'We'll let the captain decide.' I said to the negro, 'Get back to bed.' He seemed grateful."

Rev. Dr. C. W. Gordon of Win. peg Says Canada's Prison System Wrong

Canadian Press
Toronto, April 4.—Rev. C. W. Gordon, widely known author under the name of Ralph Connor, in an interview here yesterday scored the penal institutions in Canada on the grounds they were "rotten, un-Christian and unscientific."

"We are legal and penal systems there is not one suggestion from one year's end to another of any attempt to reclaim the criminal to useful citizenship. That is paralysis—that is barbarism—that is the jungle. All we do is to have them, hurt them, make them suffer because they have hurt us."

Dr. Gordon's attack on the penal system arose out of a discussion of the case of the Alberta citizen discovered to have been a fugitive from a United States penitentiary for the last twenty-four years. Dr. Gordon thought the fugitive should be returned rather than have it appear Canada was protecting a United States criminal.

STOCK CONTROL BILL IN THE U.S.

Associated Press
Washington, April 4.—Despite President Roosevelt's O.K. on the bill to control the United States stock markets, members of the senate banking committee to-day predicted it would be modified again.

They said the strength of the opposition to it would assure many alterations. Backers of the measure, entitled the Fletcher-Rayburn Bill, hope the bill will report it without "weakening."

The first test of committee sentiment occurred yesterday. Opponents indicated a desire to rewrite it virtually from beginning to end, by seeking to eliminate the vital introductory section without waiting for the more controversial provisions.

DR. KIANG NOW IS AT HONGKONG

Canadian Press
Montreal, April 4.—Pearing re-arrest, Dr. Kiang Kangshu, chairman of the department of Chinese studies, McGill University, fled from Shanghai, China, to the British possession, Hongkong, according to word received at McGill University yesterday.

Dr. Kiang departed from Shanghai in such a hurry he was forced to leave all his baggage behind. L. M. Cosgrave, Canadian government trade commissioner at Shanghai, reported in a letter to Col. Wilfred Bovey, director of the department of extramural relations at McGill. The Chinese savant will remain in Hongkong or in South China until he sails for the Dominion next month to resume his duties at the university here.

Word of this latest development recalls Dr. Kiang's arrest by Nationalist authorities several months ago, when he was detained because he was suspected of aiding certain Chinese rebels.

McGill heard of the arrest, and the Department of External Affairs at Ottawa made representations which resulted in his release. According to Mr. Cosgrave, Dr. Kiang reached Shanghai on March 9. Disturbed at rumors he would be re-arrested, he went immediately to Hongkong.

Gunman Is Shot By Police

Eugene Green, Who Was With J. Dillinger, Captured at St. Paul, Minn.

Associated Press
St. Paul, Minn., April 4.—Federal guns, blaring a leaden retort to gang defiance, had cut loose to-day on the trail of the arch-fugitive, John Dillinger, and reddened it with blood of his gun-toting pals.

In a swift descent yesterday evening on a hideout, officers wounded and captured Eugene Green, a veteran of mid-western crime. Arrested with him was a woman, officers guarded her identity carefully. It was said she closely resembled Evelyn Frechette, a girl friend of Dillinger.

Green, critically wounded, admitted he was one of three persons who shot their way out of a police trap last Saturday. Dillinger himself was understood to have been one of the others. The "third" woman, it was presumed to have been the Frechette woman.

W. A. Rorer, heading federal forces in charge of solution of the Edward G. Bremer kidnapping case, announced Green had admitted being one of the trio involved in Saturday's gun battle with officers.

ASSESSMENT ROLL VOTED BY COUNCIL

Canadian Press
Vancouver, April 4.—After convening as a board of equalization to make a $427,925 reduction in Granville Street land assessments, the Vancouver City Council yesterday confirmed the 1934 assessment roll, with a net total approximately $18,000,000 below that of 1933.

The drop in the assessment roll will mean the city's general tax levy this year will be approximately $547,500 less than that of last year. This figure is based on the present net mill rate.

The net levy for taxation this year—exclusive of churches, schools and other exemptions—is $194,495,155 for buildings and $187,683,790 for land. Last year, on the corresponding basis, the levy was $202,676,701 for buildings and $187,278,155 for land. Buildings are taxed on half their assessed values.

CODE FOR COPPER PRODUCERS IN U.S.

Associated Press
New York, April 4.—The United States Copper Association, representing about 97 per cent of the copper producers in the country, The New York Times says, had decided to-day to submit a revised code for the industry to H. O. King, deputy administrator of the NRA in charge of copper. New provisions submitted by NRA officials will not fix a minimum price for the metal directly, but will state sale of any metal below the average cost of producing copper in this country, set at 8.6 cents a pound, will be defined as "destructive price cutting."

The Times says the desired price is nine cents a pound, with a gradual increase to around the 10-cent level.

Canberra, Australia, April 4.—The ground work for intra-empire trade having been well laid at the Ottawa Conference, extensions and variations of the Ottawa agreements could best be effected through ordinary official channels, said an official statement to-day, announcing the cabinet was opposed to another imperial economic conference at this time.

PRECEDENT SET BY TORONTO EVENT

Toronto, April 4.—Leaders of the Jewish and Gentile races will meet here April 23 and 24 to discuss problems of interest with a view to establishing closer relations and better understanding. This is the first time Jews and Gentiles have ever planned an official meeting in Canada.

DR. KIANG NOW IS AT HONGKONG

Canadian Press
Montreal, April 4.—Pearing re-arrest, Dr. Kiang Kangshu, chairman of the department of Chinese studies, McGill University, fled from Shanghai, China, to the British possession, Hongkong, according to word received at McGill University yesterday.

Dr. Kiang departed from Shanghai in such a hurry he was forced to leave all his baggage behind. L. M. Cosgrave, Canadian government trade commissioner at Shanghai, reported in a letter to Col. Wilfred Bovey, director of the department of extramural relations at McGill. The Chinese savant will remain in Hongkong or in South China until he sails for the Dominion next month to resume his duties at the university here.

Word of this latest development recalls Dr. Kiang's arrest by Nationalist authorities several months ago, when he was detained because he was suspected of aiding certain Chinese rebels.

McGill heard of the arrest, and the Department of External Affairs at Ottawa made representations which resulted in his release. According to Mr. Cosgrave, Dr. Kiang reached Shanghai on March 9. Disturbed at rumors he would be re-arrested, he went immediately to Hongkong.

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S CHANCE

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S LUMBERMEN assuredly have all the incentive they desire to stimulate sales of our forest products in the United Kingdom in the British government's $575,000,000 housing plan. An enormous amount of lumber will be required and from the mills of this coast and other parts of Canada our exports should be very considerably increased this year and for some years to come. The British programme was officially announced recently and it provides for:

Expenditure of $575,000,000.
Demolition of 266,851 houses.
Replacement by 288,189 houses.
Rehousing of 1,340,183 persons.
Employment for 110,000 persons.

The government's stipulation is that all slums marked down for clearance under nearly 1,400 programmes shall have vanished not later than 1938. These programmes, incidentally, cover areas with a population of a little more than 36,000,000, or ninety per cent of the total population of England and Wales.

For some time British Columbia logging, lumber and sawmill interests have maintained active contact with the timber importers of Great Britain through their own organization in London and, as a result, last year's sales were approximately double those of 1932—thanks to the preference on lumber given this country under the Canada-United Kingdom trade treaty entered into at the Ottawa conference, and Britain's embargo for several months last year on Russian products.

This year, moreover, Canada not only will enjoy the benefits of the preference, she also will be able to go after a goodly share of the 200,000,000 feet board measurement which would have been supplied to the United Kingdom by Soviet Russia had not the British government reduced the contract negotiated by Timber Distributors Limited with Russian exporters from 450,000 standards, or 900,000,000 feet, to 350,000 standards, or 700,000,000 feet.

The lumber interests of Canada have Premier Bennett to thank for his insistence that Article 21 of the Canada-United Kingdom Treaty be recognized. This is the provision which protects empire products against those which compete unfairly in the United Kingdom market—commodities produced by state aid or under other conditions which amount to the same thing.

It is interesting to note, by the way, that at the beginning of this century, Canada was supplying the United Kingdom with over 580,000 standards per annum, but this trade declined steadily until in 1932 it amounted to only 70,000 standards.

The average annual exports to Great Britain of planks, boards, and square timber—practically all of which was softwood—by five-year periods has been as follows:

Periods	Standards
1898-1902	562,000
1903-1907	426,000
1908-1912	312,000
1913-1917	284,000
1918-1922	455,000
1923-1927	133,000
1928-1932	70,000

During the first eleven months of 1933, the shipments to the United Kingdom increased to 214,000 standards—a standard is 1,980 feet board measurement—with the prospect that the total for the year will have amounted to 240,000 standards.

The effect of the Ottawa agreements began to be felt in 1933 and the exports of lumber to practically every British country increased materially as compared with 1932. The exports of lumber to the United Kingdom did not show any pronounced increase until March, 1933, but since that time there has been a general upward trend which shows every indication of being sustained.

SIGNIFICANT

A SMALL ITEM OF NEWS IN A RECENT issue of The Manchester Guardian announced that the directors of Imperial Chemical Industries Limited were able to declare a net profit of $6,001,805, against $4,729,072 for 1932, and $3,408,290 for 1931. They propose a dividend for the year of seven and one-half per cent on the ordinary shares, against six per cent for 1932 and four and one-half per cent for 1931, while the deferred shares are to receive one per cent, against nothing. The allocation to reserve is $1,000,000, against $500,000 for 1932 and nothing for 1931, and the sum carried forward is $566,139, against $543,770.

The chairman of Chemical Industries Limited is Lord Melchett, the second of his titular line—his father, before his elevation to the peerage, was Sir Alfred Mond—who also is chairman of the International Nickel Company of Canada Limited.

It would be foolish to suggest that an increase of about $7,250,000 in the net profit in 1933 over that of 1932 and more than $12,500,000 over that of 1931 could be traced to business done with countries that are preparing for war. The products of these two great concerns are used for many purposes besides the manufacture of fighting equipment in varied form.

The fact remains, however, that there is this large net profit from an industry which does not seem to harmonize with the profits of other industries of a different kind.

GANGSTER BRAINS

FRED GOETZ, THE GANGSTER WHO was taken for a ride the other night after several years of activity as one of Chicago's worst gunmen, did not come from any of the slum regions that breed most criminals. He was a small-town product of a good family. Furthermore, he was a college man, an honor student at a great university, and an athlete of considerable prominence.

All in all, he was emphatically not the kind of material of which gangsters are made. Yet he plunged into the underworld, became a hired killer, served as counsellor to the notorious Fred Burke—and died at last, gangland-style, in a ditch, full of bullets. A strange and tragic story must await the telling there, if one could only get at it!

ON THE RIGHT TRACK

ONE OF THE FIRST THINGS TO WHICH the newly-created Economic Council will devote its attention is land settlement in British Columbia, what the situation actually is, and what ought to be done to insure for the future a more practical form of land tenure. When it has accumulated this information it will pass it on to the government for application, as it may deem fit, under the provisions inserted into the Land Act at the recent session of the Legislature.

As Professor Carrothers, chairman of the council, very properly points out, there are some settlements in British Columbia which are practically rural slums, where people have not been making a living and never will be able to make a living. No policy is sound, of course, unless it guarantees the settler a living—which means a guarantee that he will at least be able to produce sufficient to sustain his family and have a little over to exchange for necessities which he is unable to produce himself.

The survey the Economic Council proposes to undertake in the interests of a better-directed land settlement policy, combined with the collection of information that may lead to the correction of existing unsatisfactory conditions in the rural areas, should be extremely useful to the government and, eventually, lead to the saving of hundreds of thousands of dollars in administrative costs.

NOT THE TIME FOR IT

THE CANADIAN GAZETTE AND EXPORT Trader says all Canadians will share the regret which Premier Bennett expressed in the House of Commons that the United States Senate had rejected the treaty between the United States and Canada regarding the St. Lawrence seaway. We quote from the journal referred to:

In a memorable phrase, the Canadian Prime Minister spoke of this projected seaway as "a manifestation of the will and the capacity of two sane and peace-loving countries to join fairly and freely in an enterprise of profit to them both." The friendly relationship of Canada and the United States during the past one hundred years form the best witness of the value of good neighborliness to both peoples, and it is almost incredible that means should not be found to apply these principles to the management of this great international highway.

The Canadian Gazette and Export Trader is published in London, England, and it devotes itself to the discussion of Canadian affairs; but we do not think it is very near the mark when it says that "all Canadians" will share Premier Bennett's regret over the verdict of the United States Senate in regard to the St. Lawrence deepening project.

It was natural that the Prime Minister should express such regret since he became impatient during the regime of Mr. Mackenzie King because negotiations looking to the consummation of this project were proceeding, as he called it, so slowly. But conditions have changed very considerably since then. In other words, Canada can not afford the money for her share in the undertaking just now. She needs all she can scrape together for other more pressing things.

It is clear from the article which Mr. C. P. Fullerton, K.C., chairman of the board of trustees of the Canadian National Railways, has contributed to that transportation system's monthly magazine that the C.N.R. to-day is "just as free from having to consider matters from a political angle as is any railway in Canada." And he points out in the article that it is the intention of himself and his fellow-trustees that this condition shall remain.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

A STRIKING WARNING
The Kingston Whig-Standard

The position of Montreal illustrates emphatically the evil of borrowing freely, avoiding present difficulties by leaving it to posterity to foot a lot of the bills which could or should be paid by the generation which makes the expenditures. The result is that to-day Montreal badly needs money to care for those on relief, lacks the funds needed and cannot even keep her streets clean when the spring thaw comes.

CAN WE KEEP OUT OF IT?
The Jacksonville Journal

With war clouds looming darkly over the horizon in Europe, the one question in which most of us are interested is simply, "If a new war comes in Europe, or Asia, how can we keep out of it?" Canada in 1914 and the United States in 1917 learned that they could be called on to send their young men overseas to die in quarrels that were purely European—quarrels in the making of which the New World had had no hand, and from whose solution it could expect no direct benefit. It would seem that we could keep out of it if we simply made up our minds that we would not be drawn in, no matter what might happen.

TIT FOR TAT
The Banffshire Journal

An amusing "Sunday observance" deadlock has occurred in the little Berkshire town of Farringdon between the butchers and the local council.

For years the butchers of the town have been in the habit of killing animals on Sunday, but the District Council are considering taking action to stop the practice. They quote as their authority an Act of Charles I. which imposes a penalty of £80, but the butchers have threatened to retaliate through the medium of the same act, which imposes penalties on those who do not attend a place of worship.

The butchers say that if they are prosecuted they will keep a watch on members of the council, and will turn informer against those who do not attend church the number of times required by the statute.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

JOY'S RETURN

Wind-swept lay the garden and barren
Of blossoms which summer had known,
The harsh voice of winter had threatened
And kinnet and lily had flown.

The roses were stripped of their petals,
Withered leaves lay heaped high on each
And grasses were twisted and faded
As they shrunk from the wind's icy Wrath.

O, bleak was the garden, once lovely,
And bare was each blithe songster's nest,
Yet I knew that the spring and its music
Would return with life's tides at the Ebb.

Old sorrow, like winter, is passing,
Gold of gladness will brighten the skies,
Wealth of bloom will come back to life's
Garden,
Song again from hushed lips will arise.

AN EXPLANATION

To the Editor:—Owing to some misapprehension you kind, will publish the following: The Robert Shaw of Brentwood arrested and fined for not reporting an accident last week, was not my brother, Robert Luggin Shaw, of the old West Road, at present in Vancouver.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

To the Editor:—The garden and sport season is now approaching, and with it the want of sufficient light to enable all to enjoy the same. The project to install artificial lights in the Athletic Park to enable supporters of the baseball game to attend a more convenient time, is, I understand, in obedience, no doubt on account of the cost.

If our progressive citizens would give serious thought to the benefits of daylight saving, many problems would be solved and, incidentally, a considerable saving of money would be the result. Daylight saving goes into effect in other parts of the world effecting populations to the extent of many millions of people, with the same objections that we put forward, usually our concern as to how the farmer will be able to have his cows give their milk one hour earlier, is the most serious.

Give the gardener cheaper water for summer use, and the sportsman an extra hour, and Mayor Leeming's appeal for "City Beautiful" would have a real chance to come to pass.

A SOLUTION

To the Editor:—The thousands of cars laid up for licenses mean a great financial burden on the city and province. A small way of revenue, directly and indirectly, connected with the automobile business. Even suppose it is necessary for the government to collect as much money as possible from the cars, it is obvious the present scheme of trying to collect it all at once in the least part of the year is not going to increase revenue, but reduce it.

There are many losses to city and province: (1) Relief expense for auto workers; (2) gas tax (often as much as a year as the license); (3) license never taken out; (4) no income tax from the unemployed; (5) no city business tax of closed garages. These are several ways in which the government can get even more money and at the same time let the car owners use their cars: (1) Quarterly licenses with windshield stickers for each quarter; (2) more gas tax and nominal license fee of about $5. The gas tax is very high already, but seems the fairest, as the big cars and trucks use most gas and do most road damage.

Many thousands of automobile workers besides businesses using delivery or sales cars are being badly hurt by the present system.

AN ADMINISTRATIVE POT-POURRI

To the Editor:—You were kind enough to print a letter of mine regarding the retention of over $1,000,000 by the federal government that rightfully belongs to our provincial government and many of our citizens relative to the creation of the sealing industry. By a coincidence in the same issue of March 14, your journal chronicled the demand by Mr. Neill, M.P. for Comox, for a share in the $160,000 yearly compensation to the fishermen of Canada under the Treaty of Washington, or probably better known as the Halifax Award of 1871. One can imagine the concerted action by the Press, Chambers of Commerce and unified representatives, irrespective of party affiliation by the Maritime provinces for the grant that affected their provincial rights and in 1878 it was turned over to them. As this compensation comes within the province of the sealing industry, Mr. Neill of Comox demanded for British Columbia a share of this grant. Mr. Duff of Nova Scotia replied that the same share should be demanded by Mr. Neill of Comox or backed up by a solid phalanx from the Maritimes said that British Columbia would not receive $1 of this grant, or to you, Mr. Neill, for although you seem to be playing solitaire, we will try to send you some active co-ordination. In the same issue of your journal, a grant of $4,500 to a fishing organization in the Maritime provinces be duplicated to the fishing industry of British Columbia and was informed by the Hon. A. Durnan, acting Minister of Fisheries that no organization in British Columbia had asked for such a grant. Will some gentle awaken us? Following up with news that affected us, in the same issue you stated that Senator Taylor of New Westminster demanded an investigation into the $2,500 out of $25,000 seal skins secured by the United States from the sealing grounds at Pribilof, while we paid $10,000 out share of cost of conveyance. As we receive 15 per cent of the catch, as does Japan, I wonder what Japan received, and if she pays her share for this policing on the high seas, about what sum? Senator A. B. Robinson of Indiana wrote an article in the issue of March 24 of a magazine called "Liberty," under the caption "Will Japan Seize Alaska," and among other matters relative to the riches and potentialities of Alaska stated that it last year had taken 45,000 seals which at the fur sale in St. Louis brought prices ranging from $20 to $25 each and that in a few years they could take 100,000 skins yearly without any impairment.

What is wrong with us, Mr. Editor? Just plain innocuous desuetude, lack of co-ordination, faulty selection in administrators or what have you?

LIQUOR PLAN IS OPPOSED

Young People of Vancouver Present Beer and Wine Petition to Government

A petition presented recently to the provincial government, 821 young men and women of Greater Vancouver have expressed objection to the sale of beer and wine in restaurants and hotels.

The petition was presented by Brian Robertson, director of the department for the Greater Vancouver Young People's Union, and as follows:

"Citizens of the province of British Columbia and over eighteen years of age, we the following, being people associated with the Greater Vancouver United Church Young People's Union, and being concerned with the moral and social conditions of the city, which confront the young people of today, submit our signatures as a protest against the proposed sale of beer and wine in restaurants and cafes or hotels, or any other place, for consumption."

PRESENTS THOUSANDS

covering practically every district of Vancouver, this petition, circulated by the Greater Vancouver United Church Young People's Union, and endorsed by the Y.M.C.A. and the Older Boys' Movement, is expressive of not hundreds, but thousands, of the city's best and finest young people, morally and socially, who wholeheartedly offer their combined opposition against the liquor trade and its promoters." Mr. Robertson said, "Robertson, a young man of twenty-three years of age, said he wanted the combined forces of 2,000 young people, having been associated for a number of years with the union, which is the largest organization of its kind in the city, to present the petition in an executive capacity for literary and debating purposes, and for the past term has headed and directed the department of radio."

NOT ESSENTIAL

"The young people of my city do not believe that liquor is essential to life, they most certainly do not believe that they would cease to be a Christian community if they did not recognize the need of attending these issues when they arise. Societies would cease to function in the Christian sense of the word if they did not assume their responsibility in upholding that is essential to a higher and standard of living," he said. "I most emphatically and earnestly express the opinion that liquor at no time or place is essential to the social functions of society, or in general worth the trouble and expense of running up an alley, but to make matters worse, are standing on the wrong when they attack so brazenly without apparent concern of the side of the question, the young and women of to-day. We believe these problems pertaining to liquor are questions for youth power, especially at this time the question, and believe me, it is going to answer in no uncertain terms."

Delightfully Informal

Quiet Wedding at Esquimalt

Governor-General and Lady Bessborough Receive Several Hundred Citizens Only Public Affair During Their Stay Held Yesterday at Empress

Mrs. J. R. Francis and Mr. Gwilym W. Baugh-Allen Married To-day

Some hundreds of citizens, including representatives of officialdom, of the professions as well as private citizens from all parts of the island and in all walks of life, attended the informal reception held by their Excellencies the Governor-General and Viscountess Bessborough at the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon, the affair being the only one of a public nature during the distinguished visitors' ten-day stay in this city.

The vice-regal party arrived at the hotel at 4:30 o'clock, accompanied by Capt. A. F. Lascelles, private secretary to the Governor-General; Captain E. C. Colville and Captain G. D. Tyron, the aides, and Mr. A. M. D. Fairbairn, private secretary to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor.

They were received by Premier Pattullo and his daughter, Mrs. Clifford Colville, and Mr. J. K. Rodger, manager of the hotel. Her Excellency, who was beautifully gowned in leaf-green flat crepe with a most becoming broad-brimmed hat to match, was presented by the Premier with a bouquet of exquisite mauve orchids.

From the rotunda, the vice-regal party proceeded to the ballroom, between the assembled guests. On entering the ballroom their Excellencies received members of the cabinet and their wives, then took their stand at the eastern end, before the orchestra dais which was banked with pink schizanthus and spirea, while on one side a magnificent bowl of daffodils and primulas added a further note of color to the scene.

The cabinet ministers and their wives took their stand at the rear of the receiving line and the hundreds of persons who attended the reception entered by the west door and proceeded, in single file around the ballroom to the receiving point, where Capt. Lascelles announced them to their Excellencies, who greeted each guest with a smile and a handshake.

A delightful informality marked the whole proceedings, there being no music to herald the coming of the vice-regal party, who remained until 8:30 o'clock, when they departed for Government House with the same absence of formality.

The maid of honor, Miss Amelia Roper of Nanaimo, wore a graceful frock of blue radium lace over crepe de Chine, with hat to match. Miss Mary McMillan, cousin of the groom, who was bridesmaid, wore yellow point d'esprit over crepe de Chine, with a large picture hat, and both carried bouquets of daffodils and fern.

Mr. Joe Williams, uncle of the groom, was best man.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Gladys Roper of Nanaimo sang "O Promise Me," accompanied by Mr. Cyril Davis, who also played the Wedding March. Messrs. Geo. Brown and Norman Ellis, cousins of the groom, were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Memorial Hall.

Baugh-Allen and Mrs. Baugh-Allen of Esquimalt.

Given in marriage by Captain O. R. Parker, the bride was unattended and wore a smart suit of navy blue tweed with hat to match, adorned with a blue and white feather mount. Mr. A. R. C. Morton supported the groom.

ACID-THROWING POILS FINERY

Chinese Ultra-Nationalists Start New War on Modern Dress

Morris J. Harris, Associated Press Foreign Staff, Shanghai, April 4.—Acid-throwing "deal" patriots of China have declared war on foreign-fashioned finery, silk stockings and high heels. Pretty Chinese girls in numerous cities have been spotted with nitric acid and put to rout in theatres, banquets and restaurants by ultra-nationalistic celestials.

Male birds of plumage, too, with natty suits, white collars and plastered-down hair, have felt the wrath of fashion terrorists. Smart foreign finery is to your ultra-nationalist what a red rag is to a bull.

Chiang Kai-shek, head of the Nationalist government, started a "new life" movement last month, urging a swing back to the simple old philosophy which caught the imagination of the 400,000,000 people.

A group of anti-modernists calling themselves the "Iron Blood Association for the Extirpation of Treasures" is blamed by the press for the nitric acid outrages.

They aim to encourage purchasing of Chinese goods instead of foreign manufactures.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

RESPECT BABY'S REFUSAL OF FOOD

The mistake a young mother makes with her first baby are invariably mistakes in judgment. The young mother develops judgment through knowledge and experience, but with her first baby she's too fearful of making mistakes to avoid them.

HOW MOTHER FEELS

Naturally the mother is upset when the child refuses to eat. Those three or four or five meals are so vastly important that when baby fretfully pushes a bottle away or will have none of his carefully prepared vegetables or cereal the mother is in the depths of despair. She feels that by hook or crook she must get that food into baby.

There are so many reasons why baby refuses to eat that we will not attempt to enumerate all of them. My leaflet, "Physical and Psychological Reasons for Appetitelessness," will be helpful to mothers dealing with chronic appetitelessness of mysterious origin. Your request for the leaflet should be accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Appetitelessness which is not chronic is another problem. Babies who are about to cut a tooth are prone to suffer some trivial disturbances which affect their appetites. They prefer biting hard on a spoon, a rubber ring, or some other hard object to partaking of their regular bottles. For a few days they tend to refuse some or all of the food offered them. As a symptom of their temporary uncontentedness this should be respected.

A coming cold will momentarily stifle the baby's desire for food and again this is a condition which should be heeded. Food stuffed into a baby who has no desire for it is food wasted. It merely becomes an irritant to a system which spurns it.

The onset of any of the childish diseases is very often heralded by appetitelessness and a tendency to vomit. This inexplicable and unusual type of appetitelessness is a warning signal. Keep baby quiet, watch him, give more water and less food and wait until nature displays more accurate signs of what may be wrong, or else adjust itself and baby again grab for his bottle. In the case it is advisable to disregard appetitelessness and feel that mother knows best and baby should be forced to eat.

Members wishing to attend the luncheon for the provincial annual meeting on April 18 are asked to notify the secretary, Mrs. Chisholm.

WOMEN'S WORKROOM MAKES RENEWED APPEAL FOR AID

Grateful Letter Shows Need of Undertaking; Tag Day to Be Held April 21

"I desire to take this opportunity of tendering my thanks to you and Mrs. Thora for the many kindnesses received during 'my time at the workroom, and I would be glad if the same sentiment could be conveyed to the ladies who are doing so much for the workroom and who have so long held themselves responsible for it. I would like them to know all it has meant to me. It provided for me at a time when I had nothing, and it has helped me to find myself and retain my self-respect, and I am, and always will be, very grateful."

HOPE FOR $1,000 ON TAG DAY

This letter, addressed to Mrs. Stills of the committee, and one of many similar expressions of appreciation, was read at the meeting of the Women's Workroom committee held in the Y.W.C.A. yesterday evening. It prefaced the discussion of plans made for a renewed appeal for $4,200 to carry the workroom on for the next six months, and for the tag day to be held on April 21, at which the committee hope to raise $1,000 for this humanitarian piece of work.

Mrs. J. W. Gibson, president of the meeting, Miss M. A. Wigley, convenor of the finance committee, emphasized the urgent need for a renewed appeal for funds for carrying on the workroom, the total cost of operating which for the six months beginning September 1 last was $6,987.62. While thanking the many generous friends who had helped to carry the project forward during this period, it was shown that a fresh appeal must be made.

LOW OVERHEAD

At the expiry of the period of the last appeal (March 31), the committee had issued a number of letters to friends who had already helped, stating that it would be impossible at this time to close the workroom without entailing great hardship on the hundred or more women employees. About 120 letters had been sent out, the communication giving a statement of the disbursements made in the workroom during the past six months. The $6,987.62 operating expenses included $3,985 paid to women employees; $287.61 for material purchased; $649 for salaries to supervisor and two assistants; and $86.07 for sundries.

As a result of the many appeals, the committee has been able to continue the $25 monthly donation; one promise for a $10 a month donation; five promises for a monthly $5 donation; three promises for a monthly $1 donation; two donations of $100 each; one donation of $24; three donations of $10; two of $5, and several donations of $1.

The average cost of operating the rooms for a month, estimated on the expenditure of the last six months, is $11.65. Toward this there is about $100 a week from direct relief, leaving about $700 per month to be raised from other sources to meet the workers' wages, which amount to more than $80 per day.

Miss Wigley tendered her thanks to the generous friends who had assisted in various ways in the sending out of the appeal letters.

TAGGERS NEEDED

An appeal for taggers on April 21 was made at last night's meeting. Headquarters for the tag will be at the workroom store, next door to Carey's Tea Shop, on View Street.

In the course of the evening, reference was also made to the nature of the work that is undertaken at the workroom, and a fresh appeal was made for orders for household mending and men's mending, as well as for materials, either new or second-hand, to be made up into garments by the workers. The workroom is at 1510, Cook Street; the store at 718 View Street. Donations of materials or orders may be left at either place.

NURSES NAME DELEGATES

Provincial Annual Convention Closed in New Westminster Yesterday

Canadian Press
New Westminster, April 4.—Miss Mabel F. Gray, R.N., president of the Graduate Nurses' Association of British Columbia, and Miss Helen Randal, R.N., registrar, were appointed as two of the four delegates to attend the annual convention, in Toronto, of the Canadian Nurses' Association, in June. The other two delegates will be named later by the provincial council from among names submitted by the various local associations.

The annual convention of the Graduate Nurses' Association of British Columbia, concluded a two-day session yesterday evening in the Nurses' Home of the Royal Columbian Hospital.

Under the chairmanship of Miss H. E. Kerr, secretary of the association, a general discussion took place on "The Student Nurse of To-morrow," the topics under consideration dealing with her selection, discipline, health, physical education, instruction and her ultimate aim as a private duty nurse, public health nurse or institutional nurse.

At the evening session an address was given by Dean H. T. J. Coleman, head of the department of philosophy, University of British Columbia, on "Education as a Factor in a Changing World." No election of officers took place at this meeting, these being elected biennially. Selection of the next convention place will be chosen later by the provincial executive council.

Centennial W.M.S.—On Monday afternoon the Centennial United Church W.M.S. Auxiliary held its Easter thank-offering meeting in the school room. Mrs. Rogers, first vice-president, was in the chair. The meeting was opened by the repeating in unison of the watchword, followed by the roll call, which was responded to by a large number of the members. A number of associate helpers and other visitors were also present. Monthly reports of the secretaries were given. An inspiring message came to all through the Easter worship service, which consisted of responsive readings interspersed with the singing of Easter hymns. Miss Samuelson sang very beautifully the following selections: "My Task" and "Open the Gates of the Temple." Mrs. J. Hood, the guest speaker, gave a very inspiring address on Christian service. The offering, which was a generous one, was then taken. Mrs. Birckett, an associate member, sang an Easter selection. Refreshments were served and a social half hour was enjoyed.

DINNER PARTY TOLD OF NEW LIST

New York, April 4.—At a dinner the other evening, Mrs. Henry Epstein (daughter of Max Steyer, counsel for Banker Charles Mitchell) told of a new kind of shopping list.

A fourteen-year-old girl, arrested for shoplifting, was brought before the Children's Court, where Mrs. Epstein does volunteer case work. In the child's purse was a neat list of things to steal, one item for each day in the week: Monday: Stockings for Sam, size 9. Tuesday: panty for Gus, fourteen-year size. Wednesday: Sweater for Ma, size 40. And so forth. All family necessities. Not a single thing for the child herself.

The child was paroled and is making rapid strides in a night course in stenography, in addition to going to school daytimes.

Fairbanks Has Left For London

Barcelona, Spain, April 4.—Douglas Fairbanks Sr., left for London to-day after two or three transatlantic telephone conversations with his wife, Mary Pickford, film star, now in Detroit.

The motion picture actor refused to discuss the nature of their conversation or to indicate whether he would go on to the United States after he reached London.

Reconciliation between the two famous screen players is reported as imminent, but Fairbanks himself has not commented upon the report publicly.

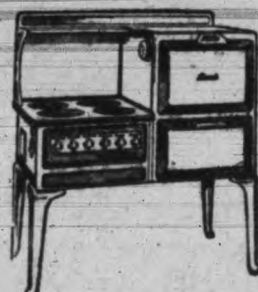

DENIES ENGAGEMENT

Cannes, France, April 4 (Associated Press).—Princess Ingrid of Sweden yesterday formally denied reports she was engaged to Crown Prince Frederick of Denmark. She said she did not even know Frederick. The princess is with her grandfather, the Duke of Connaught, at Cap Ferrat.

WOMEN, the world over, realize that electricity has revolutionized every household job—has brought freedom from routine tasks that took heavy toll of their youth and strength—that made them old before their time.

That's why more than two million women on this continent now cook electrically on modern, labor-saving electric ranges.

These women have said goodbye, definitely and permanently, to tedious hours of work, to uncertain baking results, to premature old age and impairment of their health.

Why not join this army of women who stay young—young in appearance and physical well-being? Our special campaign offer, at this time, makes it easy for you to join their ranks.

Special Campaign Offer

IN ORDER to encourage the use of electricity for cooking, we will extend, for a limited time, to each new purchaser of a new electric range a credit of $45.00. This credit will be applied at the rate of $2.50 a month against the cost of electrical energy used to operate such range.

Think Before You Become a Stepmother

Dorothy Dix

Points Out Difficulties of Other People's Children

Being a Stepmother Is a Hard Job, Both for the Women and for the Children—Make Sure That You Are Big and Warm-hearted Enough, and Free of Jealousy Before You Undertake It

A WOMAN is going to marry a widower with two adolescent children who have been living with their grandmother since their mother's death. The father is particularly devoted to the elder of the children, who is a beautiful and attractive young girl of sixteen, and the prospective stepmother frankly admits that she is consumed with jealousy of her and wants to know if I do not think that she should tell her fiancé that she is not willing to have the children live with them after they are married and that he must leave them with their grandmother.

Well, if she feels that way about the children, the only decent thing to do is to state her position unequivocally on the subject and give the widower a chance to choose between her and his children. Otherwise she will bring misery down on the heads of all concerned. And it will be more justice to the children, whose fate lies helplessly in the hands of their elders and whose happiness or misery will depend upon their stepmothers' attitude toward them.

Of course, it will be a terrible surprise and shock to the father to find out that his beloved children are regarded as a fatal handicap to him. Men have an artless belief that all women are simply sloshing over with maternal instinct, and that they will get the kick of their lives out of bestowing it on another woman's children. Hence, when a widower marries and brings his new wife home, it never occurs to him that she isn't going to love his children and be a real mother to them.

It never enters his dear dumb-head that the more a woman loves her husband, the more she is apt to resent the first wife, who had his youth and romance and all pertaining to her, and that there are no other stress or ramps of whom she is so passionately jealous as she is of his children. Every display of affection that he makes to them, every generosity, every token of pride, all the little petting that would be so precious to her if shown to her own children, tear her heart to tatters when they are lavished on the children of his first marriage.

Of course, there are some women whose arms ache for children, who take their husbands' children to their breasts and love them as if they were their own. There are big and generous-hearted women who are just to their stepchildren, but if a woman is at all inclined to be jealous and if she is of a possessive nature, it is a dangerous experiment to try to step into the shoes of a mother. She makes their lives bitter, and she either alienates their father from them or makes home a place of continual strife.

It is not to be denied that the lot of the stepmother is a difficult one. Taking it by and large, it is the hardest and the most thankless job on earth, and one wonders why any woman ever has the courage to undertake it.

All children are wearing to live with. When they are small they are noisy and dirty and obstreperous. They clutter up the house and get the nerves of adults with their incessant activities. When they are adolescents they are full of strange whims and fancies and possessed of a manly doing that which they should do. They consider themselves incurable and irreproachable taste, they look upon their elders as a morose and are resentful of all control and interference with their plans.

All that their own mother has to put up with in children, all that sacrifices their own mother has to make for them, all the work she has to do in making them comfortable and creating a happy home, a stepmother has to do. But there is this great difference: The mother's love is a magic that makes her children's noise music to her ears, that turns every sacrifice into a pleasure, and makes labor a joy. But the stepmother has no such affection to gladden her labor and sacrifice. Her self-denials, her toil, are just, blood offerings laid on the altar duty.

And if very few children ever show any perception of what their parents do for them or express any gratitude, still less are stepchildren appreciative of their stepmothers. As a general thing they resent her and regard her efforts in their behalf as unwarranted meddling in their affairs. Discipline they will accept from their own mother they will not take from a stepmother, and this makes more difficult the task of the women trying to guide aright her husband's children and be a mother to them.

If there are cruel stepmothers, there are also demon stepchildren, but the stepmother should always bear in mind the fact that her lot is her own choosing. She knew what she was doing when she married a widower with children. She deliberately elected herself to the position of mother to them and she is, of all women, the most damned if she is in doing her best to take their mother's place to them.

For a woman to marry a man with children and neglect and mistreat them; for her to be cold and cruel and unsympathetic to them; for her to make them feel so unwelcome in their father's house that they are little driven out of it as soon as they can support themselves; and for her to alienate their father from them by being so jealous that he is afraid to show them any affection, is for her to commit the crime of crimes.

Oh, it is a hard job being a stepmother. Hard for her and hard for the children, and a woman should search her own soul before she undertakes it.

HORSE AND BUGGY DAYS

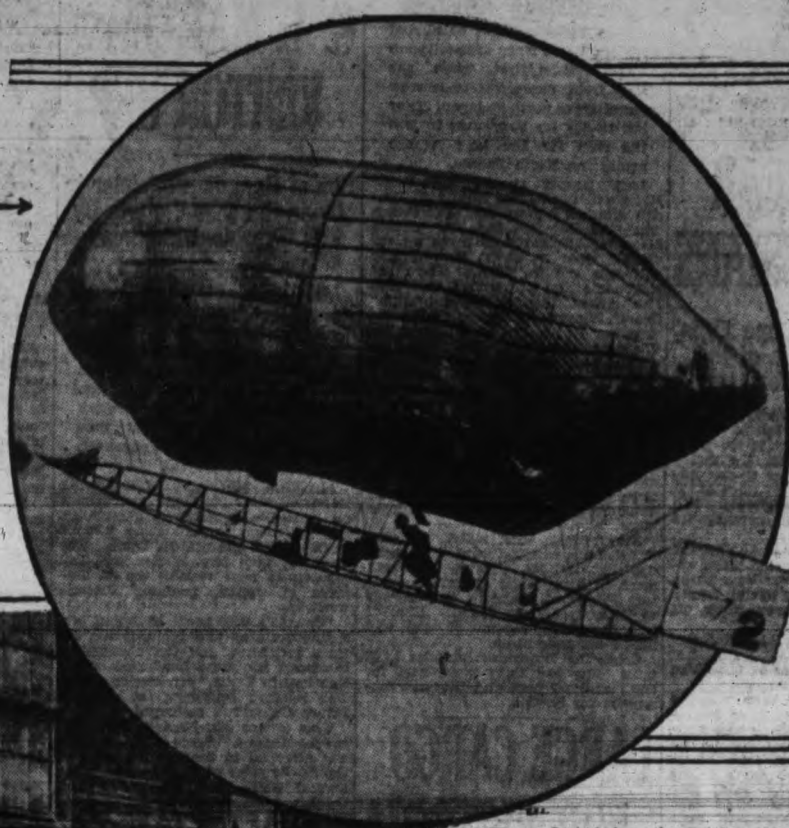

Maude Adams Is Idol of Stage
Bottoms Up in Cobweb Palace
Abe Attell Defends His Title

Throughout the theatrical seasons of 1903 to 1907, Maude Adams as Peter Pan in Barrie's play of that name became the undisputed idol of the stage on this continent. As Hubble in the "Little Minister," and Maggie in "What Every Woman Knows," she added to a reputation which persists to-day, though she is now engaged in research on stage lighting. Her characterization of Peter Pan, above, needs only the tinkle of a hidden bell to step out of the page alive.

Giant airships like the Graf Zeppelin have grown from small beginnings. For instance, here's one of the early dirigibles, Charles Baysdorfer's Comet, Baysdorfer is plainly visible, "navigating" the ship, which soared to a record height of 500 feet on a test flight in October, 1907.

Warner's cobweb palace on Meigs' wharf in San Francisco was a strange place in the '70s. Abe Warner loved spiders, and allowed them for years to spin their webs uninterrupted on the ceiling of his saloon, until it became weirdly festooned with dusty masses of cobweb. Abe's place also featured garish nude paintings, caged monkeys and a parrot that could swear in four languages. It was a favorite resort of ship captains, who enjoyed both the surroundings and hot toddies.

Just before the battle, Abe Attell (left) was the featherweight champ in 1910, and Owen Moran was about to try (successfully) to take the title away from him when this picture was made. The gentleman with the soup-strainer and straw hat in hand is Charlie Harvey; the referee, Jack Walsh. This bout was in San Francisco.

The Gibson Girl era was passing, but there remains a suggestion of it in this photo of a well-known Chicago society leader in 1912. Note the queenly hair-dress and the sweeping train.

COMBATING PEST TROUBLE

Victoria Horticultural Society Told of Methods to Eradicate

Methods by which Victoria could combat the spread of garden pests, expected to be particularly plentiful this year owing to the mildness of the winter, were outlined to members of the Victoria Horticultural Society at their meeting in the City Hall yesterday by William Downes, Canadian government entomologist.

After explaining how the pests benefited from the mild weather, and predicting a hard season for gardeners in their fight against them, Mr. Downes outlined various methods by which they could be checked.

He suggested contact spraying, arsenic poisoning and coal-oil emulsion poison. The constituents of the different sprays and the best way in which they could be mixed were explained by the speaker, who also dealt with other solutions which had proved valuable in cutting down different forms of blight.

He advised the gathering to use lead arsenate in preference to Paris green as a poison.

In some detail he sketched the early menace and measures which might be adopted to deal with it.

During his address, Mr. Downes showed several lantern slides to illustrate his various points.

Announcement was made the society would hold a card party on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

During the meeting the society was offered a special medal for a future flower show.

Girl Deliberately Took Her Life

Nanaimo, April 4.—The jury empanelled to inquire into the death of Poy King, eighteen-year-old Chinese girl, found hanging at East Wellington, March 30, found that deceased met her death by strangulation, being self-inflicted, during a fit of despondency. According to evidence of witnesses' mother and Chinese laborers, deceased went to East Wellington with her mother for a load of lumber and stayed there, while her mother brought the load to town. She was found hanging from a door about 11.45 a.m.

FINE MUSIC IN "THE YEOMEN"

Special Orchestral Accompaniments Being Arranged For Popular Light Opera

Particular attention has been given to the assembling of the orchestra for Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Yeomen of the Guard," which will be presented at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Friday and Saturday evenings by the Victoria Operatic Society. The first-night performance will be honored by the presence of Their Excellencies the Governor-General and the Countess of Bessborough, accompanied by a party from Government House.

In both orchestra and chorus Chris Wade has brought out the particular tone color applicable to the music of the sixteenth century. Two clarinets will play in duet form with the principal, the cello will play the obbligato to Fairfax's song, and in the lovely number sung by Elsie, Phoebe and Dame Carruthers, only a violin will accompany them. This will give just the right atmosphere of the period, which relied on woodwinds and strings for most of its ensembles. Mr. Wade has arranged for the drummers to play the marimba wherever he found the music seemed to call for spirit, violin and flute, and he has, in this way, been able to get the true effects of the medieval music. In the lovely and tuneful duet, "I Have a Song to Sing, O," with Elsie and Jack Point, the accompaniment is particularly Elizabethan, having the true spirit-like form running with the singing. The box office opened at the theatre this morning and already a large proportion of the house has been booked for both evenings. Mail orders were exceptionally heavy and all these were filled, in the order in which they were received, before the ticket office opened.

TAX INQUIRY TO START SOON

Canadian Press

Vancouver, April 4.—The Royal Commission to study the demands for wider taxation powers on privately-held Crown lands will likely be appointed by the British Columbia Government within the next week or ten days, City Solicitor J. B. Williams has been informed by Premier Pattullo.

Appointment of a commission was promised the city when its request for a charter amendment on Crown land taxation was withdrawn from the Legislature after Prime Minister Bennett had expressed opposition. The city has sought the right for many years to tax privately-owned Crown lands as if the leaseholder were the actual owner.

HOW ONE MAN LOST 19 lbs. FAT

Now Feels Absolutely Fit

A fat man is commonly supposed to be good-humored, easy-going. But there is many a fat man who finds the going far from easy. The following letter describes one typical instance:—
"I began to put on weight this year, and developed stoutness in the stomach which was very ugly. I took Kruschen Salts each morning for a month, and reduced my weight 13 lbs. So I kept on, and have now reduced 19 lbs. altogether. Apart from that, it has also relieved me of headaches, and I feel absolutely fit each morning, ready for a hard day's work."
—H. M.
Taken every morning, Kruschen effects a perfectly natural clearance of undigested food substances and all excessive watery waste matter. Unless this wastage is regularly expelled Nature will eventually store it up out of the way in the form of ugly fat. Once Kruschen gets into the blood you will soon see that double chin begin to go, and that too prominent abdomen begin to disappear.

VERIGIN KEPT IN HOSPITAL

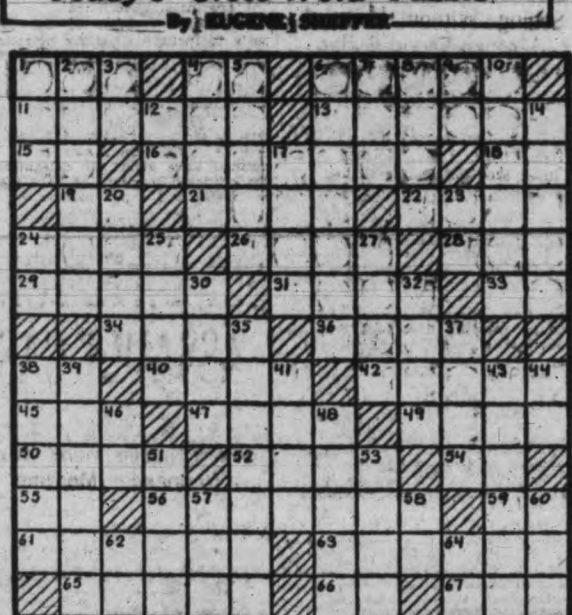

Canadian Press
Nelson, B.C., April 4.—The police court hearing of Peter Verigin, leader of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, charged with being intoxicated in a public place, was adjourned yesterday until Friday when his counsel pleaded the Doukhobor leader would be unable to leave the hospital for two or three days.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

"Two longs and then two shorts. Right!"
It was not a message in Morse code that Director Mervyn LeRoy was discussing. He was talking to Mary Astor, who has a leading role in Paul Muni's latest starring picture for Warner Bros. First National, "The World Changes," now showing at the Columbia Theatre, and the subject was her brother.

Miss Astor lay full length on the floor, her hair disheveled, her face drawn and pale. As Muni's wife in the picture, Miss Astor loses her mind and dies as a result of shock. The scene about to be photographed was that in which she breathes her last.

"GOOD DAME" AT CAPITOL

Sylvia Sidney and Fredric March Have Leading Roles in New Feature Picture

"Good Dame," the B. P. Schulberg-Paramount picture co-starring Sylvia Sidney and Fredric March, is at the Capitol Theatre.
It presents Sylvia in a new type of role. She is cast as the stranded chorus girl, forced to join a cheap carnival company to get money for a railroad ticket.
Innocent of the way of men, she falls in with a wise-guy "carnie" gambler. His method of handling women is about as unfair as the trick deals he hands out to his "yokel" audiences.
But the "good" dame and the "bad" boy are drawn together, and after helping her out of scrape after scrape he still insists "dames" mean nothing to him.
The direction of Marion Gering deserves much credit; likewise the able photography of Leon Shamroy.
Sam Hellman's dialogue is especially brilliant and decidedly real. William Lippmann, novelist and Broadway playwright, wrote the original story.
Also being shown on the same programme is George O'Brien in "Frontier Marshal."

Clark Gable To Star at Capitol

"It Happened One Night," Columbia's picture of the Samuel Hopkins Adams Cosmopolitan novel, which co-stars Clark Gable and Claudette Colbert for the first time under Frank Capra's direction, will open a six-day run at the Dominion Theatre Friday next.

This is the third Columbia picture of the current season to win enthusiastic receptions from the critics and audiences everywhere. Its two predecessors were "Lady for a Day," also a Capra production, and "Mystery Castle," directed by Frank Borzage.
Miss Colbert is cast as the daughter of a banker. Disapproving of her marriage to Jameson Thomas, debutante playboy, Connolly has kidnapped her immediately after the ceremony and taken her aboard his yacht, where he moors in Florida waters. The imperious Claudette swims ashore and hastens to rejoin her husband in New York, traveling incognito by bus to avoid her father's detection.
Gable, an adventurous newspaperman temporarily out of a job, is also en route to New York by bus. He and Miss Colbert, who occupy adjoining seats, react unfavorably toward one another. Claudette considers him insolent and ill-mannered; he regards her as supercilious and pampered.

STAGE SHOW HERE FRIDAY

"Skipper" Don Mills, well known to radio listeners and theatregoers alike throughout the Pacific Coast, will bring to the Empire Theatre on Friday his gang of radio and stage stars to present what he terms "the best" show he has ever presented, and that is some statement for the genial "skipper" to make, for he has offered some excellent programmes.
Dancing, singing, instrumental numbers and plenty of comedy are all included in this snappy, brilliant and fast-moving "unit show," which presents the "skipper" as master of ceremonies and as a vocalist of no mean ability.

DOMINION THEATRE

"Catherine the Great" is now showing at the Dominion Theatre.
The Russian Empress's diary provides an astonishingly frank picture of intrigue in the court of Elizabeth. Catherine arose every morning at six, spent half an hour with her greyhounds who slept in a basket by the side of her bed, then performed her morning ablutions, which to judge from the record, consisted of "rinsing her mouth with warm water and rubbing ice on her face." Following this she went directly to her workroom, where her breakfast, consisting of five cups of coffee, was served. A whole pound of coffee, incidentally, went into its preparation.

EMPIRE THEATRE

The Empire Theatre is presenting another grand stage attraction, the Arizona Wranglers. Famous through a brilliant stage and radio career, these cowboy artists are under the direction of Sheriff Loyal Underwood, and introduce in person such internationally-known characters as "Uncle Iron Tail," "Blicker," "Sleepy," "Rubbins," "Dynamite" and others.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

William Powell has his own theory about how long a motion picture should be. As the director of most of his own film stories and even of his completed films, he believes that most pictures do not know when to end.
"Writers and directors," he says, should take Whistler's advice to stop working when they are through with what they are doing—not go on and try to put a triumphant ending of some sort on it."
Working on this theory, Powell succeeded in making a crisp, businesslike production of "Fashions of 1934," his latest First National picture, now showing at the Playhouse Theatre.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

Paul Thompson's Overtime Counter Defeats Detroit

Lionel Conacher In Great Display

IN VIEW OF THE forthcoming visit to England this summer by the Australian cricketers to decide which can win the most of the five test matches to be played for possession of the historic Ashes, now held by England, great interest will be aroused throughout the British Empire by the cricketing world generally. More than usual in fact will be the interest displayed this year on account of the controversy created last winter in Australia over what the Aussies termed "body-line bowling." This type of bowling was originated and perfected by Harold Larwood, the Nottinghamshire pro. Larwood is claimed to be the fastest bowler in the world to-day.

Arthur Carr, under whom Larwood serves when playing for Nottingham, says: "Larwood has a most determined character. He is full of grit, and the moment he steps on the field, he is a trier until the close of play. When we drop his catches, he will want to sink into the ground, but we know that it is only his keenness that makes him a little short with us. Any catch in the slips off Larwood is a fine catch; the public do not realize this by their groans when they are dropped."

Larwood is very adamant and outspoken over the matter of "body-line bowling." He says the word "body-line" was maliciously coined by an Australian journalist for the express purpose of misleading, and for obscuring the issue, which he considers it did with great success. Larwood calls his bowling "fast leg-theory," and claims the batsman has a far better chance to escape injury from his deliveries than from other fast bowlers. His reason is that other fast bowlers have never got the "leg-theory" or "leg-field," therefore, when the leg-field is set he can see it for himself and knows what to expect. He says that Bradman has seven fielders on the leg side and two on the off. Five of his fielders are behind the square-leg position.

It might be pointed out as an argument in Larwood's favor that when Henry Woodfull got hit at Adelaide in the last test series, he was not bowling leg-theory. Many leading cricketers are of the opinion that there is nothing wrong with Larwood's bowling. They argue that he has taken the trouble to perfect his art to a fine degree, and he should be entitled to the fruits of his labor.

Back in 1931 Gregory and McDonald bowled fast leg theory for the Australians and not a sound was heard, nor was there any mention in the English papers condemning that type of bowling. On the other hand, in fact, it was thought by many that the critics were right, and that the English players for not standing up to the bowling better. So strong did the criticism become that Jack Hobbs was compelled to lay aside his bat and wield the mallet in defence of not only himself, but his teammates as well.

Most young English footballers cherish the hope that they will play for such a club as Arsenal and would jump at the chance of being signed up.

This was not so with E. J. Drake, Southhampton, who, however, has the unusual experience of having an offer turned down.

Drake, whose dashing play has made him the most dangerous centre-forward in the second division, has been attracting the attention of many of the big clubs for some time.

Arsenal, hoping to jump in first, came to terms with the club and everything was settled—that is, as far as the club was concerned. This was thought to be the easiest part of the deal, but when George Allison, representing Arsenal, approached the player with a view to his appearing at Highbury against Aston Villa recently, he met with a rebuff.

Most young footballers (Drake is only twenty-one) would have been waiting on the doorstep for Arsenal representative. Not so Drake. He was born in Southampton and he put the associations of his home town first.

"No, thank you," he said to Mr. Allison, and not even an hour's conversation on the matter would make Drake alter his decision. He declined to "sign on," so Arsenal's managing director, had to give up the idea.

The Southampton club, whose "rates" are about $1,000 below the amount required to run the club on sound lines, had hoped to benefit financially by Drake's transfer. The player, however, by the rules, has a perfect right to please himself. Where two clubs are agreed about terms for the transfer of a player, the last word always rests with the player.

It is stated that the price which was the basis of the negotiations was $30,000. Southampton, it is believed, asked for $35,000, but Arsenal offered only $25,000.

There are a number of instances where a player has exercised this right. A notable case is that of Lambert, who, before he went to Fulham, refused a year or two ago, to join Birmingham, who had come to terms with Arsenal.

San Francisco, April 4.—Enthusiased with the success of the recent six-day bicycle races here, George Blakely, one of the promoters of the event, left yesterday for Seattle and Portland with the intention of introducing the sport there.

Blakely, western representative of the National Cycling Association, will look over track sites and will confer with local sportsmen in the two cities with the idea of putting on summer races there.

Canadian Press, April 4.—Charlie Gardiner, the master-craftsman of Chicago Black Hawks, had opened up a slender lead to-day in the Stanley Cup duel of goaltenders over twenty-seven-year-old Wilf Cude, the toast of Detroit, and the most apt of the puck-stopping apprentices who seek the Gardiner throne.

The Hawks outlasted the Red Wings here yesterday evening to score a 2 to 1 victory in the first of the five-game series to decide world supremacy in professional hockey. Paul Thompson, Chicago left winger, scored the winning goal after twenty-one minutes and ten seconds of overtime, shooting the puck over Cude's shoulder from close range.

In the featured battle of goalies, battling together Gardiner, the Scot, and Cude, the Welshman, both received their hockey schooling in Winnipeg, the jumping-jack of the Hawks strode ahead because his defence held firm in front of him. There was only one lapse. The Red Wings fumbled several times.

Led by the veteran Lionel Conacher, who broke away from a pile-up in his own goalmouth to score the first goal on a great solo rush, the Hawks leveled forty shots at Cude, a freshman in major league play-offs, but they hammered on him in vain for another tally until the second overtime period had started.

Conacher's goal was the most brilliant individual play of the night. He broke over the blue line, barged between Teddy Graham and Doug Young on the Detroit defence and skated right up to Cude, who was hammering on him in vain for another tally until the second overtime period had started.

Less than five minutes of the third period had elapsed when the desperate Red Wings went down five abreast on a power play. Graham carried the puck in behind the Chicago cage and passed out to Aurie. The wingman feinted Gardiner out of position and passed to Herbie Lewis, posted straight in front of the goal, and Lewis scored.

The crowd of more than 14,000 spectators, who had gathered for the required several minutes for rink attendants to clear the ice of paper and debris that was showered down during the overtime period, again they attacked vainly for the rest of the third period.

WINNING GOAL

In the first twenty-minute overtime period, Tommy Gordon's team came close several times. But Cude was always in the way and Graham, Young and Walter Buswell provided the goals with fine protection. The second overtime session had hardly started when Doc Romnes, first-string centre, gave Thompson a pass for the winning thrust.

White became victory tucked away, the Hawks became decided favorites to win the series. The second game will be played here to-morrow night but the third and fourth are on Chicago's home ice. If a fifth is necessary it will be played in Detroit.

The Wings, or any other team for that matter, have yet to make Gardiner yield more than two goals a game in the play-offs. The curly-haired Hawk has been scored on only six times while Chicago was eliminating Montreal Canadiens. Montreal, Macrone and winning the first Detroit game.

A play-by-play description of the game follows:

FIRST PERIOD

Black Hawks exhibited a close, back-checking game, the first period opened, Doc Romnes and Paul Thompson firing long shots and then breaking up Wing attacks with accurate poke checks.

Neither team could break through consistently. Trudel and Cook were giving the Wing forwards trouble in getting started with accurate poke-checking at the Wing blue line. Tommy Cook fired a long one which Cude took easily and the lines changed. The Hawks' first line of Romnes, March and Thompson were playing on even terms with the Wing first-line forwards.

Goodfellow poked the puck away from Cude's hands, then raced down the ice and his hard drive made Gardiner reach. Conacher grabbed the rolling rubber, raced away from the pile-up in front of the Hawk, let, crashed through Young and Graham, Wing defence, and drove a hard shot at Cude which got the corner by an inch at 17:50 to give Hawks a lead.

Just after Cook and Trudel were robbed by fine stops, the bell ended the period.

SECOND PERIOD

Larry Aurie's hard shot from the boards made Gardiner reach as the second period opened. Conacher missed a great chance when MacFayden's pass in front of the Wing net got away from him. The Hawks were dominating the play. Keeping three forwards checking furiously in "Wing" territory, the visitors were losing no chances to add to their tally.

CARNERA TO START WORK

Heavyweight Champion Will Go Into Woods to Prepare For Bout With Baer

New York, April 4.—The second successive day of spring warmth and sunshine, in addition to thawing out Manhattan's winter-worn joints, yesterday brought forth new facts and figures on the June 14 duel of Primo Carnera and Max Baer.

Carnera, the huge champion, will attempt to catch up with his playboy challenger in the matter of training by heading into the Maine woods on Saturday for four weeks of shadowboxing with an axe and some of the tall trees that abound in New England.

His exact destination is uncertain. Baer, fresh from a winter of dust-bowl fights through the cabarets of the land and a joust with Hollywood, has been at Lake Tahoe, California, for two weeks. The Californian is due here the middle of April and will complete his conditioning at Atlantic City, where he trained last summer before knocking out Max Schmeling.

Carnera visited Dr. Bier's camp at Pompton Lakes, N.J., yesterday and decided to work there on his return from Maine.

"I trained there last summer. Poot I knock out Sharkey and am champion of the world."

The bout will be promoted entirely by Madison Square Garden. But in the contracts is a seven and one-half per cent share of the receipts allotted to Jack Dempsey.

Moncton Favored To Win Allan Cup

Defending Hawks 3 to 1 Choice to Capture Deciding Hockey Game From Fort William To-night; Forts Count on Stiff Defensive Play to Win

Canadian Press, Toronto, April 4.—Moncton Hawks, who have dominated Canada's amateur hockey picture pretty thoroughly for two seasons, enter the third and deciding game of the Allan Cup final series here to-night heavy favorites to defeat Fort William's thundering herd.

Critics who are backing their opinions with cash have made the Hawks favorites at around 3 to 1 to score their second straight triumph over the lighter, slower western champions from the head of the Great Lakes. Even if all fans are not as convinced this will be another Maritime victory, the Hawks are generally regarded as holding the edge.

Percy Nicklin's big battalion from Moncton, beaten 3 to 2 in the first game last Saturday night, evened the series with a 4 to 2 win Monday night. In both games they held a sizeable edge in play over the fighting Forts without once definitely asserting their superiority on the score-card.

The Forts are as sure as anything that Goale Gordon Macquill will be as hard to beat to-night as he was in the first two games. And they don't mind in the least if Moncton does most of the hard work in mid-air. In fact they prefer it.

CONNOLLY MAY PLAY

Bert Connolly, whose nose was fractured in three places in the second contest from a high cross-check, may get into the crucial fixture but Nicklin will not decide definitely until shortly before the game starts. If Connolly does not play, Monty Muckle, right wing substitute, will be used.

Probable line-ups follow:

Moncton: G. Macquill, Goal; Foster Knowles, Defence; Gill McManor, Defence; Burrage O'Haguel, Centre; James O'Leary, R. Wing; McDonald Hogarth, L. Wing; Manhan, McLeod, Houston, McArthur, Moncton subs: McManus, Miller, Webster, Connolly.

Starting April 21, at Jamaica, the ponies will run for 163 days, twelve more than last year, at the five courses. The season will close, as usual, at Empress City, October 27.

McLarnin Orders To Defend Crowd

Vancouver's World Welterweight Champion Must Accept Bout With Bep Van Klaveren Or Forfeit Title, New York Commission Announces; Jimmy Not Worried

Canadian Press, New York, April 4.—The New York State Athletic Commission yesterday gave Jimmy McLarnin thirty days in which to accept a challenge by Bep Van Klaveren, Holland, for the welterweight championship, or forfeit his title claims so far as New York is concerned.

Van Klaveren, formally challenged for the Vancouver Irishman's title during the afternoon, and posted a guarantee of $2,500 with the commission.

McLarnin won the 147-pound title by knocking out Young Corbett in one round, last May. Efforts to match him against Barney Ross, lightweight champion, recently collapsed.

Vancouver, April 4.—"Titles are won and lost in the ring, not awarded by commissions," Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver's world welterweight boxing champion, said yesterday evening when informed the New York State Athletic Commission had given him thirty days to accept a challenge to defend his title against Bep Van Klaveren.

"It doesn't bother me at all," continued the smiling Irishman. "I don't think they can do that, but— and with an expressive shrug of his shoulders indicated there was a lot of territory outside the jurisdiction of the New York State body.

Jimmy said he had not heard from his manager, Charles "Pop" Foster, who is in New York, and did not expect to hear from him until the latter had definitely arranged a bout.

Los Angeles, April 4.—Tom Galley, local matchmaker, yesterday offered Jimmy McLarnin, world welterweight champion, $25,000 to meet the winner of the ten-round bout here Tuesday night between Ceferino Garcia, Manila, and Young Peter Jackson, Wilmington, Cal.

Eric Hagenlacher Bolsters Cue Lead

Chicago, April 4.—Eric Hagenlacher, the German star, tightened his grip on first place in the tussle for the International 18-2 ballroom championship yesterday, and in so doing set a new start-game record for the tournament.

The Teuton needed only six innings in which to dispose of Ray Morningstar, San Diego, 6-4. Ed started with a run of 101 and followed up with 114.

ROYALS NEED NEW PITCHERS

Montreal Entry in International Baseball League Suffers From Mound Work

Montreal, April 4.—The International Baseball League pennant has consistently eluded the grasp of the Montreal Club, and unless the Royals can develop some pitching strength before the 1934 campaign gets to a serious stage they will probably misfire again this year.

Reports trickling into town from the pre-season training camp at Orlando, Fla., indicate the current edition of the Royals will be a smart ball team if they can find some hurlers who can keep opposing batsmen from running the outfield ragged.

Coach Frank Shaughnessy himself admits his pitching staff is the weak link in his team. Early exhibition games confirmed the suspicion. The Royals played just about errorless ball at fielding and smacking out the hits smartly. The sluggers on the opposing teams, however, have been knocking the pitchers out of the park.

THREE VETERANS

Chad Kinsey, a husky right-hander, comes to Royals from Chicago White Sox. Clarence Fisher and Curley Ogden are a couple of old stand-bys. Both had good seasons last year and both are right-handed throwers. Another veteran is Dutch Henry, who fires them out from the port side.

Clayton Passeau, 300-pound right-hander, comes to the club from Beaumont and Shreveport. Other newcomers to the pitching brigade include Ralph Egan, a southpaw, Lauri Mylly, Bill Turner, Bob McNamara, right-handers, and Vic Chamberlain, another port-sider.

Dutch Henline, signed as a free agent, will share the catching duties with Pete Stack, ex-Baltimore Orioles' backstop. Oscar Roettger, hard-hitting Royals' manager, will hold down first base himself.

Billy Riebel was brought in from Detroit as a first baseman but seems happy at second where he will probably become a fixture. Charlie English, secured from Chicago White Sox, will be used at third base. Ben Sankey has been playing smart ball at shortstop.

Hub Walker, clever bunt expert, will go in again at left field. Jimmie Biffle, one of the standbys of Montreal's heavy artillery, again draws the centre field assignment. Dewitt "Bevo" Lebourveau is a newcomer secured from Nashville to play the right corner of the outfield.

Rugby Union Meet April 2

With President Russell Keer the chair, the annual meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union will be held in the board room of Colmiste, Friday, April 27, 8 o'clock. Elections of officers for the next season will be carried while reports on the season's activities will be presented. Centered in the three divisions the union will have delegates present at the meeting.

Toronto St. Mikes Score Shutout Win

Blank Edmonton Athletic Club 5 to 0 in Opening Game For Canadian Junior Hockey Championship at Winnipeg; Wild Scenes Mark Second Period

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, April 4.—"Two straight games" was the motto around the headquarters of St. Michael's College of Toronto today as they reflected on a 5 to 0 victory over Edmonton Athletic Club yesterday evening in the first of a three-game series for the junior hockey championship of Canada.

The smooth skating, sharp-shooting Irish from the Queen City downed the western champions with a torrid attack in the second period, but in the first and third periods the Edmontonians put up a better battle. And it was two youths from the Alberta capital, Max Colville and Bill Gault, who held off the strongest St. Michael's attacks for three minutes when Neil Colville, Gordon Watt and Bill Gault were in the penalty box with Nick Metz, St. Mike's.

Rev. Father Lynch and Dr. Jerry Lafamme were pleased with the play of their eastern Canada champions. Down in the dressing-room of the St. Mike's it was a happy band of puckchasers. In the other room, the Albertans were far from downhearted. Dan Carrigan and his crew saw "Lady Luck" desert them on three occasions when goals were possible, but hoped for a turn of the tide when the second game is played here tomorrow night. Victory to-morrow for St. Mike's will end the series and give them possession of the Memorial Cup for the first time, while an Edmonton win will force a third game.

OPENING GOAL
End to end rushes by both teams led to bring any scoring in the early part of the game and it took a solo effort by "Pep" Kelly half way through the first period to start St. Mike's on the road to victory. He beat the Edmonton defence and then scored with a backhand shot. The closing goal came early in the third period when Kelly took Art Jackson's pass and beat Layetzk.

Action galore was packed into the second period. With Bill Carse and Gordon Watt in the penalty box, Neil Colville grabbed the puck at centre ice in a brilliant effort to give Edmonton their first goal. Nick Metz gave chase. They bumped and Colville went through with only Harvey Teno in the St. Mike's net to beat Metz tore after him and threw his stick to stop the goal. Both went down. Metz was chased for ten minutes and Colville drew a minor for the scuffle on the ice. Penalties were pitched onto the ice as the fans cheered and the game had to be called while the ice was swept.

THREE QUICK COUNTERS
Three quick goals came from St. Mike's as the Albertans played short-handed. Johnny Acheson took a double pass from Jackson and Kelly and beat Layetzk. A minute later Jackson counted on a solo effort and then Acheson notched another four minutes later. Only Mac Colville and Bill Gault were adding their goals when Acheson got his first goal and two Edmonton players were still in the penalty box when Jackson scored.

St. Mike's were short one and the Edmontonians were at full strength when Acheson got his second. St. Mike's thrilled the crowd with their scientific hockey that brought them the decision over the western titlists. Edmonton went on the attack in pairs but the pairs were not good enough to beat the eastern talwarts.

The teams follow:
St. Michael's—Harvey Teno, Reg Hamilton, Johnny Hamilton, Art Jackson, Pep Kelly, Nick Metz. Subs: Mickey Drouillard, Johnny Acheson, Lefty Bauer, Don Wilson.

Edmonton—Fred Layetzk, Gordon Watt, Neil Colville, Morey Rimstad, Mac Colville, Bill Carse. Subs: Andy Maloney, Walter Rimstad, Bill Gault, Alex McSparron.

Referee: Bob McCutcheon, Regina; Percy Moore, Montreal.

SUMMARY
First period—1, Toronto, Kelly, 9.39. Penalties: J. Hamilton, Watt.

Action In English Football

Arsenal, one of the classiest football teams in the first division of the English League, was knocked out of the Cup competition in the quarter finals by Aston Villa, much to the regret of the Londoners. However, Arsenal players "got their own back" two weeks later when they whipped the Villa 3 to 2. The two men engaged in a heading tussle in front of the Villa's goal were David Jack (left), Arsenal's inside right, and Blair, Villa's captain and right back.

Ineligible Players Force Saskatchewan Champs From Canadian Play-offs

Vancouver, April 4.—Regina Caps, Saskatchewan men's senior basketball champions to-day appeared definitely out of the Dominion play-off picture, following the announcement of Dr. J. A. Gillespie, Vancouver, president of the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association, that three Regina players were ineligible.

The Regina officials advised President Gillespie Monday that three members of the team had been signed on after expiration of the transfer date. They asked that these men be approved for the Dominion playdowns, otherwise the Saskatchewan titleholders would withdraw.

In explaining the situation, Dr. Gillespie said if approval were granted it would create a dangerous precedent. Other teams would also want to strengthen for the Canadian play-offs, something they had not been allowed to do.

With Saskatchewan, Walter Hardwick, secretary of the Dominion organization, has asked Raymond Union Jacks, Alberta champions, to approve a two-out-of-three game series with Province. British Columbia champions, in the first of the far west interprovincial playdowns. The winners would go straight to Winnipeg for the western Canada final. Originally the British Columbia-Alberta series was scheduled for two games, two points.

Plans for the present season will be discussed at a meeting of the J.B.A.A. Tennis Club, called for tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the club quarters, the Gorge. Ivan Temple, chairman of the tennis club, will occupy the chair. It is requested that all members attend.

Mighty Equipoise Will Return To Tracks

The "mighty mite" of North American handicap horses, Equipoise, acknowledged the best of the class, will try a comeback after "retirement" last autumn, in an attempt to break the money-earning record of Sun Beau. "Ekky" has some $53,700 to go to equal the record of Willis Sharpe Kilmer's horse. Above is an excellent closeup of C. V. Whitney's six-year-old, and a picture of the finish of one of his greatest triumphs—the 1933 Hawthorne Gold Cup at Chicago, in which he defeated Gallant Sir and Mr. Khayyam.

Winnipeg, April 4.—Renewed interest on the part of wheat importers bolstered wheat prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day and quotations closed steady, 1/2-cent lower to 1/4-cent higher.

Steady fluctuations held gains to a minimum, but in the late trading selling slackened and the market finished in a firm position. May wheat closed at 67 1/2, July at 69 and October at 70 1/2.

Pit operations revealed a fair export business was worked in Canadian wheat. Buying by seaboard and continental houses was improved.

Volume of trade through the pit was steady, and over the season the amount of wheat changing hands was quite appreciable. For the most part, quotations showed small fractional losses with steady undertone quite evident.

Chicago quotations were strong and in the late stages showed gains of about 1/2-cent. Liverpool wheat ended 1/4-cent lower.

Cash grain spreads were unchanged and coarse grains held comparatively firm in line with wheat.

Chicago, April 4.—Sudden late upturn in wheat values to-day much more than offset early declines.

The rise of wheat, more than two cents from an early low point, was associated with the Thomas amendment to the Dies Silver Bill, now before a Senate committee at Washington. The amendment was regarded by grain traders as highly inflationary, as it would provide for government purchases of silver at $1.29 an ounce.

Wheat closed 1/2-cent higher, corn 1/4-cent, oats 1/4-cent advanced, and provisions unchanged to 10 cents higher.

DAIRY PLANS IN U.S. OPPOSED

Federal Scheme For Controlled Production Approved By Some

Washington, April 4.—Approval, opposition and open defiance were recorded to-day by dairymen of the United States to a plan for curtailed and controlled dairy production.

This proposal, which the agricultural administration drafted as a solution of the milk problem, was met with general approval from producers in California, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan and Ohio.

Dairymen of Alabama, Georgia, Florida, North and South Carolina voiced considerable opposition to the plan, contending there was no surplus in their area.

A substitute proposal for increased consumption by the expenditure of $10,000,000 in advertising was offered in Chicago by J. D. Mendenhall, president of the National Dairy Council.

NEW MARKETING PLANS IN BRITAIN

London, April 4.—Draught proposals for alteration of the present market system are being considered by the present pig marketing scheme, calling for control over both farmers and butchers by a national board.

The board will probably be given power to license meat sellers as well as farmers, and recommendations will be submitted for establishment of factories handling by-products, as well as a general plan for organization of municipal slaughter-houses.

WESTINGHOUSE PROFITS

Hamilton, April 4 (Canadian Press).—Annual report of the board of directors to the shareholders of the Canadian Westinghouse Company Ltd., submitted at the annual meeting yesterday, shows net profits after providing for depreciation, taxes, etc., of $469,983 compared with $706,331 last year. Dividends were paid at the rate of $2 per share in the previous year. Current assets were $11,595,003, and current liabilities $579,878.

FOURTH DEGREE

A Mystery Novel

By K. S. DAIGER

(Copyright by Macrae-Smith Company)

"For a minute I must have lost my head—haven't been able to think straight these days anyway. 'Stead of taking the rap for breaking in where I had no business, I go up to him, while out my automatic and let him have it. He gives a terrible screech and tumbles over backward into the hall downstairs, the blood splattering all over me."

"I rushes down the steps, intent on making a getaway, but still have enough presence of mind to switch off the lights at the top of the stairs just as I reaches the library door, somebody steps out and I hit him a terrible wallop with the end of my gun. Then I take the only chance left. I reaches in and gets the keys and locks you in."

"That gives me a minute or two but not long enough to get in my car and make off. And there I am, covered with blood and certain to be caught in a second or two by your bunch of cops. So I just steps behind a bush determined to shoot it out with you. The first man I seen coming toward me was you, Inspector. I lets you have it. Not that I knows it was you, but I wants to account for the blood all over me."

"I was fairly sure at the time that you had shot me intentionally," said Anderson, nodding. "That was my first definite suspicion of you, Judson. When I saw that MacNalley had been killed on the second floor I believed that it was because he had let someone enter whom he knew. I have compared the bullet found in his chest with that in my arm and I have no doubt but that Dr. Jones and his companions will be able to prove by the grooves and markings on the bullet that it was fired by this very automatic of yours. After that it was all easy, especially when you failed to show up at any of Tim's hearings. Thought he would recognize your voice, didn't you, Judson? Well, he probably will, when we reach court with you."

"What a contemptible swine you are! You would have let Tim Stokes, innocent though he is, swing for this or without a twinge of conscience. Luck played into your hands, Judson, but it deserted you at the critical moment! Tim, under the influence of the truth serum, gave me just the clue I needed. It's a wonderful thing, this scopolamin!"

"You've done a wise thing in confessing, Judson. The evidence is absolutely conclusive. We have your signature to the letter you wrote Mrs. Paige, the two shots which you fired at MacNalley and me, and the electric light bulb on which you left your finger-prints. A fatal error, Judson!"

"At this moment, we heard a car rushing up the drive and the loud honking of the police horn. Townson headquarters had sent a machine without a second's delay.

"Go ahead with him, Andy," I said, "I'll stay here. I have an hour's work dictating this story over the wire. God, won't we scoop the morning papers! I have my own car over here in the woods. Go along without me!"

"Come along, Judson," said Anderson, roughly. "Hanging is too good for you. Now you be quiet, damn you, or I'll blow you to bits!" Anderson was once through the grim efficient police official.

"Bye-bye, Judson," I said with a grin in which there was a lot of satisfaction. "I'll be seeing you again soon—at the end of a rope, I hope! So long!"

An hour later I was that sinister house of tragedy. Dawn had broken, the fifth dawn since beautiful little Sunny had been so needlessly and cruelly murdered to pay for a wicked man's conflict with the forces of Society and Order. But now she would be avenged! The Law had reached out and gathered in its prey! I struck off through the woods to where I had parked my car the night before. Years ago, it seemed.

Then it had been night and darkness. Now there were million birds singing their souls away and turning the world into a riot of sound. And the big red sun was rising in a blaze of rose and gold over the edge of the world, lighting the fields and orchards of the Paige estate and turning the waters of the Gunpowder into a sparkling dancing torrent.

The whole Universe was fresh and sweet and glorious!

To-day, behind the grim grey granite walls of the Maryland Penitentiary there is one man doomed, forever as long as he shall live, to remain behind bars, cut off from the world, from home, family, friends and all that makes the life of men worth while. His days are spent in the "scratch room," as convicts call the foundry. At night he is locked alone behind his steel bars to meditate upon the two murders that he so wantonly committed.

Kirk Judson, the prosperous clever detective, is no more.

Number 1764 he is now. And Number 1764 he will remain until he has drawn the last breath of life.

For his sentence of ninety-nine plus seven years permits of no pardon, no parole, no reprieve. Alone, forgotten, without a friend, he is making his expiation to Society.

But the Paige case is not forgotten. It never will be.

It is one of the most sinister and the most famous in the entire history of criminology.

THE END.

Uncle Wiggly and the Flying Fish

(By HOWARD R. GARIS)

Uncle Wiggly was still sitting on a warm stone, in the sun, near the woodland brook where he was trying to catch some fish. The rabbit gentleman had just played a funny trick on the Bob Cat, as I told you in the story last night.

But perhaps some of you missed that. So I will tell you that Mr. Longears, instead of catching a fish, caught an old rubber boot, filled with stones that he hauled up out of the brook.

The Bob Cat was standing back of the bunny, waiting to nibble him. But Uncle Wiggly swung the heavy boot against the Bob Cat's soft and tender nose and sent him away howling.

"Well, now," laughed the rabbit gentleman, as he took the boot off his hook and sat down again upon the warm stone, "I ought to catch a real fish. And I hope no more of the Bob Cats come along to bother me. I do wish they would let me alone."

Uncle Wiggly had come to the fishing place with three kinds of bait, or things to put on his hook to fool the fish into biting on it. He had pie, cake and some scraps of meat that Jackie Boy Wow had gnawed off a bone. No fish bit on the cake or pie bait and when Mr. Longears put some meat on his hook he caught only a rubber boot.

"And while it was a good thing for me that I caught the rubber boot," said the bunny, laughing so that his pink nose twinkled, "still a rubber boot isn't a real fish."

I think you will agree with Uncle Wiggly there. No one has ever been able to eat a rubber boot and have it taste like fish. Although some fish, like sharks, are as tough as a rubber boot.

Of course, there are some fishes that are a bit like a rubber boot. There is one fish called a sole (though it is really a flounder) and you know that a sole is part of a rubber boot. But Uncle Wiggly wanted to catch a real fish.

Not that he wanted to eat it. He was going to take it home, put it in a bowl of water, with some weeds and stones and let his bunny children watch the fish play.

"I might even catch two fish," Uncle Wiggly thought, "or perhaps three or four and they could play tag and hide-and-go-seek or other games in the bowl of water and it would be much fun for Baby Bunsy and the other children."

So Uncle Wiggly felt very sorry when he found, at first, he had caught only a rubber boot. Though of course he was glad when he had the boot to bang the Bob Cat on the nose.

"I think perhaps I ought to try some other kind of bait," said the rabbit gentleman, when he had put the old boot behind some bushes. "I have tried cake, pie and meat. I wonder what I could use next?"

Just then, out of a tree over the rabbit gentleman's head, a feather came floating down. Some bird, building her nest in the tree, had dropped the feather. It fell on Uncle Wiggly's pink twinkling nose and tickled it.

"Ker choo!" he sneezed.

Then he looked at the feather and said:

"I think I shall use that for bait and perhaps I may catch a real fish."

For Uncle Wiggly knew that some fishermen put feathers on their hooks and call them flies and so fool many a poor fish.

Fastening the bird's feather on his hook, once more Uncle Wiggly cast it into the water. Then he sat down, as before, waiting for a bite and hoping none of the Bob Cats would stroll along to bother him.

"I don't believe the Bob Cat will come back," said the rabbit gentleman to himself. "But the Fox & Wolf might take a notion to try to nibble me. I must be careful."

He looked into the woods but saw none of the Bob Cats. So he began to watch his pole and line, ready to haul up as soon as he got a bite. Of course he couldn't see his feathered hook—that was under the water.

All of a sudden the line began to shiver and the pole began to shake and Uncle Wiggly said:

"I believe I've really caught a fish this time!"

He waited to make sure the fish had taken hold of the hook and then the rabbit gentleman jerked it up out of the water. This time he really had a fish and not an old rubber boot filled with stones.

"But what a queer fish!" said Uncle Wiggly as he saw it. And well might he say that for the fish had wings like a bird and began flying around while still fast on the hook and line. "A flying fish!" shouted Mr. Longears. "What luck!" And what happened next I'll tell you tomorrow night when the story will be about Uncle Wiggly's surprising his wife.

And I hope milkman's horse doesn't try to roll a log over with a tire off the automobile and so make the Police Dog laugh.

HOROSCOPE

THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1934

Good luck attends this day, according to astrology. Benefic stars are strongly in a time favorable alike for work and play.

The morning hours are stimulating and enervating. All initiative is well directed and many novel projects are being planned. Science is opening new fields of exploration.

Mining will arouse unusual interest in the coming summer, when new deposits of gold and silver will be discovered. Rare minerals will be found in hitherto little explored regions.

Farmers and all who draw maintenance directly from the soil are well directed today. Back-to-the-land projects will gain popularity this year.

There is a star that seems to promise clearer mental vision for Americans who are too susceptible to the mass suggestion contained in the public press to think independently.

Women are lucky under this sway, which encourages them to entertain friends and to practice patience regarding personal ambitions.

This is a fortunate day for public banquets, theatre, concerts and other assemblies of men and women. Community entertainments are well ruled by the stars.

Ferns whose birthdate it is have the luxury of a year of prosperity. Journeys for pleasure are preaged for the young.

Children born on this day will be intelligent and industrious. Subjects of this sign usually are trustworthy and have power to win lasting friendships.

Jones Chickering, piano manufacturer, was born on this day, 1877. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Kiku Yale, philanthropist, 1848.

TWENTY SLAIN IN MEXICAN RAID

Mexico City, April 4.—Dispatches from Oaxaca yesterday reported twenty persons, including several women and children, were slain, a number of persons were kidnapped, and the entire village of Guadalupe Vista Hermosa was sacked and burned by raiders.

The attackers, it was said, came from the nearby villages of Monte Leon and Chilpan, inflamed by an ancient boundary dispute.

Merchants of Belgium are seriously concerned regarding the maintenance of trade barriers throughout the world.

Another forward step in the development of police work was made by the British Columbia force yesterday with the satisfactory performance of a short-wave portable radio. The set was used by Constable Harold Engleson, well-known Victorian, and former prominent rugby player, who is now on patrol duty in the Nimpkish Lake area. At 5 o'clock, Constable Engleson broadcast the message that, Peter Markinson, Vancouver Island trapper, was safe in the wilderness following a minor accident. The message was picked up by Victoria, Prince Rupert, Kamloops and Nelson stations and was heard without a break. The set is believed to be one of the smallest used in Canada and its use for portable work on police patrol is expected to prove invaluable. It weighs twenty-five pounds, and is operated by a two-volt tube with a forty-five volt battery.

MAY QUEEN OF NANAIMO NAMED

She will reign over the celebrations of Empire Day and the "Home Town Week," to be held from May 20 to May 28. Maids-of-honor and flower girls will be elected from outside districts. This is a concession to the districts by the May Queen committee who feel that the districts are entitled to this honor by virtue of their patronage. The May Queen will be chosen from the outside district next year.

A farewell banquet was recently tendered to Harry Hayes who is leaving for England in the near future by the St. John Ambulance class. Some 200 members were present to bid good-bye to Mr. Hayes. INDIAN BOYS SEEING CITY

Rough Weather Prevented Party Coming All the Way From Ahousat By Sea

Rather overcast by what to most of them was their first glimpse of a big city, eleven Indian boys from the residential school at Ahousat arrived in Victoria yesterday evening by coach from Alberni, after rough weather had prevented them from carrying out their original plan of coming the whole way in the launch Dawn, of their own construction.

The party, under the charge of Rev. Joseph Jones, principal of the school, and accompanied by their trainer, Stanley Bailey reached Port Alberni in the Dawn, a seaworthy little boat forty feet long, after a twelve-hour passage. The launch met exceptionally heavy weather off Cape Beale at the entrance of Barkley Sound, and was four hours rounding the head. In the course of their struggle the party passed the Princess Maquinna, which they stated was shipping water heavily over her bows.

The party's first reactions to the size and movement of the city were interesting. They made little immediate comment. "The remarks will come later," said Mr. Jones. Several members of the party stood for a long time in the lobby of the Y.M.C.A. building, where they are staying, gazing rapt at the second hand of the electric clock on the wall opposite the entrance. "I expect I shall get lost," said one. "It is so big a house."

Yesterday evening they were on their way to see their first talking film.

The party will meet specially chosen city teams in basketball and football matches during their three-day stay in the city. The time between these matches will be spent in sightseeing.

The Ahousat residential school has just over sixty pupils, of whom thirty-four are boys. It is only within the last few years that sports have been taken up, and enthusiasts in the city eager to see what showing the teams will make.

As a sample of their work, the party have brought several canoe paddles which they have made. These will be on show during their stay at Pinney and Ritchie's.

The party under Mr. Jones is made up of the following: Allan George, Eugene Adler, Ian Seymour, Philip Louie, Jack Patrick, Joseph Billy, Norman George, Roy Alexander, Simon Martin and Tom Paul.

HOLD ANNUAL SALES WEEK

Satin-Glo Week Is Proving Very Popular; Many Fine Colors

Seventeen years ago the style of furnishing the home with brightly painted furniture and woodwork was just coming into vogue, and the British America Paint Co. Ltd., a western Canadian company, foresaw the necessity of creating a paint product that women could use to redecorate surfaces which became soiled and worn. The result of many laboratory experiments and sun-exposure tests was "Satin-Glo." Made in delicate pastel tints with a soft, satin-like finish, yet extremely durable and washable, it answered every demand of the home-decorator.

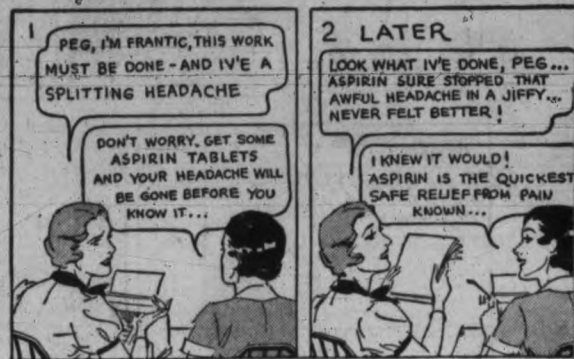

Marketing the product was the next problem to be solved. In order to induce women to try it and find out for themselves how easily "Satin-Glo" can be applied it was decided to hold a "Satin-Glo Sale Week," with the appeal of a substantial price reduction. The first "Satin-Glo" sale was such an enormous success, and women who tried "Satin-Glo" became so enthusiastic about its qualities, that it has been carried on ever since as an annual event. "Satin-Glo" dealers in Victoria are featuring this popular sale during the week of March 29 to April 7.

In addition to the original "Satin-Glo" finish, the company now offers "Satin-Glo" high-class enamel in seven bright, attractive colors, and "Satin-Glo" varnish. Three finishes with which every interior decorating problem can be solved.

Ease Pain, Headache in Few Minutes

For Quick Relief Say ASPIRIN—When You Buy

Now comes amazingly quick relief from headaches, rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia . . . the fastest safe relief, it is said, yet discovered.

Those results are due to a scientific discovery by which an Aspirin Tablet begins to dissolve, or disintegrate, in the amazing space of two seconds after touching moisture. And hence to start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

The illustration of the glass, here, tells the story. An Aspirin Tablet starts to disintegrate almost instantly you swallow it. And this is ready to go to work almost instantly.

When you buy, though, be on guard against substitutes. To be sure you get ASPIRIN's quick relief, be sure the name Bayer in the form of a cross is on every tablet of Aspirin.

WHY ASPIRIN WORKS SO FAST

Drop an Aspirin Tablet in a glass of water. Note that B. F. O. R. E. it touches bottom, it has started disintegrate. What it does in glass it does in your stomach. Hence fast action.
